

Dr. Fishbein Will Be Dinner Speaker

A community-wide dinner for residents of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital's service area is being scheduled for Wednesday, February 24, at 7 p.m. in the Newton High School, 453 Walnut street, Newtonville, according to Bernard D. Grossman, general chairman of the hospital's building fund campaign.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, internationally famous medical authority, will be the key speaker.

Guests at the dinner will hear of the plans for Newton-Wellesley Hospital's building fund campaign, a $4 million program of new construction and modernization, with a public-participation goal of $3.5 million and an additional half million dollars anticipated from federal funds.

Realization of the plans will bring to the Newton-Wellesley area a larger and better equipped health facility together with new and advanced medical services.

Dr. Fishbein's acceptance as the main speaker at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital's Community Dinner is considered by the board of trustees as significantly timely.

His life-long crusade to provide adequate and improved health facilities to communities will have a unique immediacy to all who look to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital for maintenance of highest standards.

A graduate of Rush Medical School in 1912, Dr. Fishbein participated in medical research at the McCormick Institute for Infectious Diseases and published several papers on that subject. His ability as a medical writer led to the invitation to be

Mayor Proclaims Local Scout Week

All citizens of Newton were urged to recognize the patriotic service of members of the Boy Scouts of America in a proclamation issued by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs this week.

The proclamation calls for observance of Boy Scout Week, from Feb. 7 to Feb. 13, to celebrate the 55th anniversary of Boy Scouts of America. It was given in presence of representatives from the Norumbega Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Mayor Gibbs noted that the theme for Boy Scout Week is strength in American Heritage, a program to preserve freedom through reverent, resolute, and responsive patriotism.

"I urge all of our citizens to recognize the patriotic service being performed for the community by volunteer scout

$6210 Voted To Hasten Dog Control Ordinance

A long-awaited program designed to achieve better control over Newton's dog population will go into effect shortly as a result of the action of the Board of Aldermen Monday night in sanctioning an appropriation of $6210 for this purpose.

A dog-control ordinance was placed on the city's statute books more than a year ago, but no effective plan for enforcing it has been adopted until now.

This is an outgrowth of an original move for the enactment of a dog leash law under which no canines would be allowed to run loose in Newton. That proposal was rejected and a compromise worked out.

The recommendation by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs for the $6210 appropriation was approved by an 18-1 vote, with Alderman David W. Jackson casting the lone vote in opposition.

While the funds appropriated will technically be used to establish a department of animal-control, the department is expected to concern itself primarily with complaints concerning unruly and misbehaving dogs.

Some Aldermen indicated they have reservations about the plan advanced by Mayor Gibbs but expressed their willingness to put it in operation for a trial period of a year to see how it works out.

Under the Mayor's plan, a patrolman in the Newton police department will be named as the full-time dog-officer at a salary of $7055 a year, $1040 more than he now receives as a patrolman.

He would devote his full time to handling complaints concerning dogs and to picking up animals which violate the ordinance by trespassing in schools, schoolyards or playgrounds or by committing other offenses.

A second patrolman will be designated as a part-time dog-officer to serve as a stand-in when the regular dog-officer is away. He would be paid up to $620 per year for his services in this capacity.

From the $6210 which the Aldermen appropriated, $2300 will be spent to purchase a truck to haul disobedient canines to a pound, $1000 will be used for the rental of pound facilities from Newton veterinarians, and $150 will be spent for a tranquilizer gun to calm unruly dogs which are out of control.

Newton dog-owners are urged to familiarize themselves with the dog-control ordinance which soon will be enforced in the city.

Takes Up MDC Post

Former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., has assumed his duties as the new $20,000-a-year chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission.

Whitmore was offered the position as chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance but declined it, preferring the MDC chairmanship.

He was appointed Monday by Governor Volpe as the new MDC head and was sworn in yesterday by Volpe.

Whitmore, who served three terms and six years as Newton's Mayor, opposed Volpe for the Republican nomination for Governor at the 1960 GOP State Convention.

Last year he agreed to accept the GOP endorsement for U. S. Senator and make the fight against Senator Edward M. Kennedy, probably the most unenviable political assignment assum-

Title Rides On Saturday Hockey Tilt

Saturday will be a do-or-die day for members of Newton High School's hockey team.

Tiger hopes for a GBI League championship will ride on the outcome of the game at the Boston Arena Saturday afternoon with unbeaten Arlington High.

In the first encounter between the two teams earlier in the season Arlington defeated Newton and holds a two-point lead over the Tigers in the GBI League race.

A Newton victory on Saturday afternoon would place Newton and Arlington in a deadlock for the league leadership.

A win for Arlington would give it a comfortable four-point lead and just about kill Newton hopes for a league title.

Since their setback by Arlington, the Tigers have won five straight games.

Dr. Rubin will attempt to discover those situations which bring together for a common purpose the people of often hostile religious groups.

Dr. and Mrs. Rubin will spend most of 1965 in Acre, where they honeymooned more than 10 years ago.

Dr. Roland Lombard of 2285 Commonwealth Ave., Auburndale, a veterinarian, won top honors in the recent international sled dog derby held during the winter carnival in Ottawa, Ont.

That elusive footbridge whose construction over the toll road extension at Newton Corner would mean that pedestrians would have some 800 feet less to walk may yet become a reality, it was revealed last week.

That Elusive Footbridge Is Revived Again

As a result of a discussion between officials of the city and the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, the court action, brought by the city in an effort to compel the Authority to build the bridge, may shortly be settled out of court, Mayor Gibbs reported.

Behind the court action was the Mayor's contention that he had a verbal promise from the Authority to build the bridge.

Report Sees Hope For $1 Drop In Tax

There was good news for the taxpayers of Newton in a report last week by Arthur A. Marr, Jr., the city's comptroller of accounts, who gave them reason to hope that a reduction of $1 could be made in the figure that up to then had been expected to represent the tax rate for 1966.

Mr. Marr reported that the 1964 year-end surplus was approximately $500,000.

Prior to his appointment as superintendent at the Waban office, Mr. Weber served as superintendent at the Cambridge office.

Winter Loses Grip; "Y" Plans For Camp

Despite winter's evident icy grip and a couple of months of the season still ahead, when serious talk is given to the summer camping season can spring be far behind?

Newton YMCA camping officials announced plans for the 1965 camping season this week.

Camp Chairman Raymond F. Fields, of the Chickam Day Camp Committee and Thomas W. O'Connor, chairman of the Camp Massasoit committee, said the 1965 camp season would start on Monday, June 28.

Charles E. Smith, newly announced chairman of the Camp Frank A. Day Committee, announced that Camp Frank A. Day would begin on Wednesday, June 30, for the 1965 season.

Camp Massasoit, entering its 32nd season, is located at the Newton "Y" Church Street building. It operates for eight weeks — in two week sessions, featuring tennis instruction, excellent swimming facilities, and individual instruction in many other sports.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Legislators Do Flip-Flops In Debate Over Sales Tax

The fate of Governor Volpe's proposal for enactment of a so-called "education tax" probably depends on whether Democratic legislators play politics in the issue or face up to the need for lowering city and town real estate tax rates.

If a moratorium could be placed on partisan politics while the measure was being debated and acted upon, it would be virtually certain of passage. That, however, is too much to expect.

The war of words developing over the sales tax issue is so paradoxical it could only occur on a battle ground such as Beacon Hill.

Democratic legislators, who supported ex-Governor Furcolo's proposal for a sales tax when there was less need for it than there is today, intimate that it would be political suicide to vote for Volpe's bill.

Republican law-makers who scuttled Furcolo's measure back in 1957, are now lauding Volpe's plan which is similar in many respects to Furcolo's.

If the Democrats play partisan politics on Volpe's education tax proposal, they'll be doing precisely the same thing the Republicans did in the Furcolo administration.

If the outnumbered Republicans find themselves in a dilemma, they should remember that Furcolo lined up a majority of the Democratic House members behind his sales tax bill in 1957 but that the GOP members, who held the balance of power, killed it.

State Legislature To Be Examined By Wom. Voters

How effective is the state legislature? Does its usual lengthy session mean it is stalling, thinking, or waiting for public opinion? Are Massachusetts lawmakers underpaid?

These and similar questions are on the agenda for next week's unit meetings of the League of Women Voters of Newton. Members' views will be sought on how well the legislators are performing two functions: serving the interests of constituents, and acting as an effective law-making arm of the government.

All interested women are invited by the League to attend any of the unit meetings. They will be held at the following times and places on Wednesday and Thursday, February 10 and 11:

Wednesday: 9:45 a.m. at the home of Mrs. E. P. Little, 216 Highland St., West Newton, with Mrs. Gerald Rogovin as leader; 1:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Gordon Hurwitz, 12 Clark St., Newton Centre, with Mrs. George Gard as leader; and 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Norman Rosenberg, 131 Sargeant St., Newton, with Mrs. Roy Lapidus as leader.

Thursday: 9:45 a.m. at the Newton Highlands Workshop, 72 Columbus St., Newton Highlands, with Mrs. John W. Locke as hostess and Mrs. Mathew Ross as leader; and 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs.

Herbert Shuster, 6 Wamesit Rd., Waban, with Mrs. Maynard Slessinger as leader.

Women who are interested in joining or learning more about the League of Women Voters may contact the membership chairman, Mrs. Robert Wofsey. Her telephone number is WO 9-7668.

Over 40 Brotherhood members and members of the Temple saw this thought-provoking film which was produced by the Jewish Chautauqua Society. Brown, past president of Temple Israel Brotherhood and an executive board member of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods.

The program was preceded by a breakfast hour during which meeting chairman Dan Lazovick and Dave Podolsky welcomed guests and members.

Control

Under the provisions of the ordinance, the dog-owner may restrain or order to be restrained or muzzled any dog for any of the following reasons:

1. If the animal is found at large or unmuzzled, as the case may be, while an order of the dog-officer for the restraint or muzzling of such dog is in effect.

2. If the dog is found in a school, schoolyard or public recreational area.

3. If the dog has bitten any person.

4. If the dog has killed, maimed or otherwise damaged any other domesticated animal.

5. If the dog chases a vehicle upon any public way or any street open to travel in the city.

6. If the dog by howling, barking, biting, or in any other manner, disturbs the peace.

Complaints concerning a dog must be made to the dog-officer in writing.

A dog-owner who disregards an order of the dog-officer is liable to a $10 fine.

The ordinance also provides for a court review of an order issued by the dog-officer.

Aldermen Melvin J. Dangel and William Carmen clashed at Monday night's Aldermanic session on whether the dog-officer should be a police officer or a veterinarian.

Carmen said he was voting for the appropriation and hoped that the plan would work but that he felt a veterinarian would be more suitable for the job that a police officer.

Dangel replied that a police officer should be better fitted for the position since he would have to go into court and prosecute dog-owners. Dangel observed that the Newton dog-officer will have the advice and counsel of Lowell's dog-officer, rated as the best in the State, who is coming here to help train Newton's new canine-controller.

Alderman Jackson, who raised a charter objection against the appropriation at the last Aldermanic meeting, said he was voting against the appropriation because he questioned whether the plan proposed was the best way of enforcing the ordinance.

Aldermen who voted for the appropriation were:

Winslow C. Auryansen, Adelaide B. Ball, William J. Bruce, Paul J. Burke, William Carmen, Melvin J. Dangel, Ernest F. Dietz, Franklin N. Flaschner, William M. Glovsky, George L. Hicks, William E. Hopkins, Charles F. Hovey, Andrew J. Magni, Theodore D. Mann, John P. Nixon, Jack M. Roberts, Warren A. Sutherland and President Wendell R. Bauckman.

There were five absentees, Aldermen Harry H. Ham Jr., John F. Holden, John P. McCarthy, Edward C. Uehlein and Harry L. Walen.

Howard Whitmore, Jr.

Howard Whitmore, Jr., was a fine Mayor and an outstanding legislator. He should do an excellent job in his new position as chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission.

The respect in which Whitmore is held is reflected by the fact that Governor Volpe twice offered to name him as chairman of State Commission on Administration and Finance, the most important appointive post in the State government.

Former Mayor Whitmore preferred the job to which he was named this week.

He is certain to find his new position challenging. He heads an agency which includes a 430-member police force, a network of parks, water and sewage systems, 29 recreational facilities and two zoos.

On the basis of his public record it seems safe to predict that Howard Whitmore will be equal to the challenge and to the job he has assumed.

Heart Month Is Here

February is traditionally recognized as "Heart Month" and Governor John A. Volpe has officially designated the month as such in his proclamation recently issued.

Culmination of the fund raising efforts of the month will come with the house-to-house solicitation made in Newton and throughout the Commonwealth on Heart Sunday, February 28th.

Our local Heart Fund organization reminds us again that heart disease is the No. 1 killer in all of the fifty states of our American Union.

Money raised during the month provides the potential for the constant research carried on to bring a halt to the national killer-disease.

Generous contributions to the campaign in Newton are a most worthy indication of concerned citizenship.

In the meantime heart-guarding information released by the Heart Association advises these precautions to be taken by those who wish to help prevent attack by the disease:

Reduce if overweight; decrease use of saturated fats; stop smoking cigarettes; control high blood pressure; exercise regularly and shun needless tensions. Dieting and control of high blood pressure are to be undertaken only under medical supervision.

In the meantime, prepare to contribute to the Heart Fund campaign. You get a big return on a wise investment.

40 Talented Teens Form New Musical Group Here

The Troubadours are a new Newton choral group, on the threshold of fame before their first public performance.

They are 40 talented teenagers auditioned and selected from the city's five junior high schools.

Organized to provide instruction in the fundamentals of music, sight-reading, and voice only this fall, the Troubadours have been invited to perform at the New York World's Fair.

They will wear the black and gold colors of Newton and an original emblem designed by students in the junior high art classes.

On the way to the Fair this spring, they will visit other junior high schools to present concerts and share in school activities.

The Troubadours will make their New England debut before the New England Camping Association on Saturday, February 13, at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Donald R. Sullivan of Warren Junior High and Raymond Smith of Weeks Junior High are the two music teachers who created the Troubadour program.

The Creative Arts Committee of the Newton PTA Council is assisting the group which may become one of the outstanding traveling junior high school choruses in the nation.

Plan Monthly Youth Dances

The Newton Community Center announces a new activity for boys and girls 11-15 years of age. Beginning on Feb. 12, dances will be held at the Center on the second Friday of each month from 3 to 5 p.m.

Dances will be open to all youngsters in Newton in this age category. A young teen council comprised of junior high school students and representatives of the total community will serve to coordinate and plan the affairs.

For additional information contact the Center at 244-2260.

Individual Rights

Editor of The Graphic: Under the Constitution of the United States, the individual has the right to choose his own way of life provided he doesn't interfere with the rights of others.

To repeal the present Massachusetts Referendum law which permits the voters to register whether or not they wish to have compulsory fluoridation, would ride roughshod over the individual's freedom of choice.

May our legislators keep in mind the oath we have all been brought up to respect, which ends "with liberty and justice for all."

Sincerely
Elizabeth F. Tewksbury

This lecture series has proven popular with a great many persons in the Newton area.

Headlights And Highlights From Newton High School

By KATHY WATERS

The cheery faces of the 10 Newton High cheerleaders will be decorating the Newton sports scene before long.

Chosen in December try-outs were Lea Hunt, Pat Schiavone, Barbara French, Aline Feinstein, Sharon Carey, Martha Sylvester, Helen Calvert, Beth Callahan, Pam Nabseth, and alternate Barbara Resnick.

The girls were judged on the basis of appearance, enthusiasm, skills, use of voice, citizenship, eligibility, and school service.

The judges included Merrily Lovell, President of the Girls Athletic Association; Principal Richard W. Mechem, Mrs. Ann Bagnoli, Mr. Richard Adams, and Mr. Denison Andrews.

Folk singer Jackie Washington will provide the entertainment at the Junior Class coffeehouse evening to be held February 6, in the Newton High gym.

The juniors are also working on a winter carnival to be held in conjunction with South High during February vacation. Carnival activities will include tobogganing, ice skating, hockey, snow sculpture, and a gala dance held in the evening. Chairmen of the project are Peter Ryan, Jack Runfola, Marty Clapton, Leon Faucher, and Jim Medaglia.

Tigerama celebrated its 10th birthday Friday night, Jan. 15. The first event of its kind was held on Oct. 22, 1955, with the intention of showing the need for a youth center. Today, Tigerama seems to have lost sight of its original goal. It has become a combined student party and dance held usually four times per year, in either the Newton High or Newton South Gym. Overcrowding has been a problem, but now the number of tickets sold has been limited to 1200, and Tigerama has remained a function linking the two high schools. This year the committee is under the direction of Chairman Cathy Muther and Mrs. Winnifred Geiger, Tigerama's advisor since its birth.

Newton musicians joined forces with their counterparts from northeastern Massachusetts to take part in the seventh annual Northeastern District Concert held in Beverly, Jan. 29 and 30. Members of the orchestra include Hawley Currens, Deborah Borda, Genie Kuffler, Ross Capon and Kathy Waters.

Micrael Bielski participated in the band, and those in the chorus included Vicki Grant, Laurel Elgart, Deborah Glickman, Amy Scott, David Maslan, Jeffrey Elson, William Salter, and Nicholas Ciccone.

Political Highlights

This causes an observer to wonder if matters such as this are always to be judged in the harsh light of partisan politics and if Democratic and Republican law-makers ever will try to do what is best for the people of the Commonwealth instead of attempting to figure out how they can turn an issue to their own political advantage.

Volpe's education tax proposal is not a partisan political issue.

If it is passed and there should be a backlash of public resentment against it, the one who would suffer most would be Volpe himself.

What is involved here is the question whether the Legislature should open up a new source of revenue for the cities and towns so they can reduce their tax rates and place themselves in a stronger competitive position to seek new industries and business.

If that is not done, there is a serious danger of a decline in job opportunities, and certainly there will not be the expansion of business and industry needed to provide employment for a growing population.

As this writer sees it, the sales tax is not the soak-the-poor tax that most of its critics claim.

Most of the necessities of life would be exempt from the tax.

The education tax recommended by Volpe probably would cost a family in the low-income brackets a few cents a day.

A person with a bigger income who spent more money obviously would pay more taxes.

Visitors, tourists and students from other parts of the country all would pay the sales tax.

Governor Volpe is not likely to fight as long and as hard and as resourcefully for a sales tax as ex-Governor Furcolo did.

Furcolo used patronage, persuasion, personal influence and the power of his office to line up votes for a sales tax. Volpe probably will not go that far.

There never was any evidence that Furcolo himself was injured politically by sponsoring a sales tax or that any legislator was punished by his constituents for voting for the measure. But, of course, the sales tax proposal was defeated then.

What the public reaction would be if a sales tax were enacted and placed on the books is uncertain.

In all likelihood there would be some protests when the tax first went into effect. Then they would subside as the people become accustomed to the tax, and by next year's election the tax probably would be taken for granted.

Francis X. Bellotti made the sales tax the big issue in the closing stages of his fight with Volpe last fall, at the same time walking away from the State's financial problems himself.

That it didn't prove an effective issue is evident from the fact that Volpe won and Bellotti lost.

Despite all this, Volpe put his political future on the barrelhead when he recommended a sales tax.

Ironically, Volpe probably will be in a stronger political position if his sales tax bill is defeated by a Democratic Legislature.

Then he could say that he tried to do something to help the cities and towns, lower their tax rates and raise educational standards but was blocked from doing so.

If the sales tax is enacted, Volpe must gamble that the public reaction to it will not be such as to cause his defeat next year.

A number of Democratic leaders will fight valiantly to prevent Volpe from taking that gamble by endeavoring to kill his tax program and offering one of their own.

Strange things happen in politics.

Teen Drinking Theme Of Survey By School

A survey conducted by girls of the Sodality at St. Bernard's High School, West Newton, was reported at a meeting held at the school last Friday afternoon, January 29th.

Information compiled in recent months by the sodality was centered on questions concerning drinking on the part of teen-agers.

What are the causes of teen-age drinking? Where do teens drink? What are the effects, present and far reaching of their drinking, were some of the items discussed.

The program held Friday presented an opinion based on facts compiled by the survey which pointed to the home as the main factor in teen-age drinking.

To prepare for the program the Sodality, under the moderator, Sister Margaret Cornelia S.N.D., interviewed parents and non-parents and conducted teen-age surveys and discussion groups. Teenagers also were allowed to fill in questionnaires testing their susceptibility to alcoholism in the future.

The survey indicated no susceptibility to alcoholism on the part of St. Bernard's students. It also revealed that those teenagers who do have recourse to alcoholic beverages usually drink just to go along with the crowd.

Proper example shown by parents and other adults could have a powerful effect on controlling drinking by youngsters, the survey revealed.

Literacy Classes To Have Newton Resident Tutors

An adult literacy project, up to a sixth grade level so undertaken by the Women's Division, Suburban Region, American Jewish Congress, will have a number of Newton residents as tutors, according to an announcement by Mrs. Jack Laven of 77 Wood End road, Newton Highlands.

Mrs. Laven, working in AJC's Commission on Community Relations, has organized the project under the supervision of the Massachusetts Council of Public Schools.

This program, offered as a free community service by American Jewish Congress, is designed for the adult English speaking illiterate in an effort to improve his language skills (reading, writing, spelling, pronunciation, grammar). The goal is to bring these adults to a sixth grade level so that they can then move on to adult education programs offered in public schools. With the advent of automation and advanced technology, fewer and fewer jobs are available for the illiterate citizen.

American Jewish Congress has trained 20 tutors who are involved in the program on a one-to-one relationship, one tutor for one pupil. AJC tutors are teaching at the following centers for two hours, from 8:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. on the following nights: South End House, Thursday night; Arlington Street Church, Monday and Wednesday nights; and Pilgrim Congregational Church, Thursday night. Anyone interested in the Adult Literacy Project either as a tutor or tutee can call American Jewish Congress office at LI 2-0266.

The following Newton residents have completed the training course and are tutors for the program: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Laven, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lezberg, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Sapers, Jason Burack, Jack Meltzer, Mrs. Jeremiah Berman, Mrs. Louis Lerner, Mrs. Ernest Fleishman, Mrs. Daniel Kogas, Mrs. Jerome Medale, Mrs. Harry LaBourene, Mrs. Irving Cohen, Mrs. David Berg, Mrs. Summer White, Mrs. Melvin Cerier, Mrs. Julius Aisner and Mrs. Bernard Rosenthal.

Many Routine Matters Get Aldermanic Action Monday

Archie R. Whitman was unanimously reelected city treasurer for one year, effective Feb. 8, by the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

Confirmed was Mayor Donald L. Gibbs' appointment of John B. G. Palen, 297 Islington Rd., Auburndale, as a member of the board of trustees of the Newton Free Library for the unexpired term of the late Mrs. Doris T. Getter.

Approved was a request by the Newton Retirement Board for an appropriation of $4,279.74 for the pension of John Delaney, World War I veteran and employee of the School Department for 31 years.

Also approved was an appropriation of $3,652.67, for the pension of John A. Duane, World War II veteran and a member of the police department for more than 30 years. In recommending approval, Alderman John P. Nixon, Finance Committee chairman, told the members that he was especially interested in the pensioning of Officer Duane because when he and Alderman Winslow C. Auryan were attending Newton High School, Duane was a Newton High baseball player and a track man.

An appropriation of $151.66 from unexpended 1964 appropriations requested by Arthur G. Heaney, chairman of the Election Commission, was approved after Alderman Nixon explained that Heaney had taken on the post under difficulties, what with a number of elections being held at the time, and that the money he sought would increase the efficiency of his office.

An appropriation from revenue of $81,000 requested by the director of public works to establish the base for a bond issue in order that funds may be available for the city's share of Chapter 90 projects this year, was approved.

Also approved were two public works requests for appropriations, one of them $40,500 as the city's share of the Chapter 90 project for resurfacing Washington St. from Newton Corner to beyond Beacon St., and the other for $2200 for the street department for extension of the parking area on the north side of Commonwealth Ave., Auburndale, to accommodate 12 more cars across from the new post office.

An appropriation of $15,500, requested by the public buildings commissioner for preliminary plans in connection with additions to the Carr School, was approved.

The Board rescinded the $330,000 bond issue for the proposed Albernale municipal swimming pool and adopted a new order for a $330,000 bond authorization for that purpose. This was done because of the Board's failure to appropriate funds from revenue as a base for the pool bond issue.

It was voted that President Wendell R. Bauckman would either appoint a committee of five Aldermen to study Paul J. Burke's recommendation for adoption of that section of the General Laws that provides for pensions for widows of city employees who receive no pensions, or, at his discretion, refer the matter to the appropriate committees.

Tau Beta Beta Meets Feb. 9

The Newton membership of Tau Beta Beta, active scholarship fund-raising organization, will be well represented at the program on February 9 in the Wellesley Public Library at 2 o'clock.

Roland Wells Robbins will present an illustrated lecture on the "Space Capsules in History." The speaker is an authority and consultant on problems of American architectural history and the restoration of famous landmarks.

Mrs. S. Bruce Black of Waban is chairman of the hospitality committee for the day. The pourers include Mrs. Natalie Allen Kimball of Newton.

He succeeded to the post as editor in 1924 and held that position for 25 years. Consensus among medical circles is that Dr. Fishbein made the "Journal" the most influential of medical publications.

His relentless pursuit of fraudulence and "quackery" among those posing as medical practitioners has contributed to the maintenance of high standards of medicine both in this country and abroad.

Early recognition of public interest in medical science and its advances led to his becoming a prominent writer on this subject. He is credited with producing an average of 15,000 words a week on medical subjects of popular interest, extending his activities to radio and newspapers, where his syndicated column appeared in more than 700 newspapers. Medical editor for Doubleday and Company, he is a special contributor to Good Housekeeping and McCall magazines.

Author of several books on medicine for popular consumption, his Modern Home Medical Advisor has sold four million copies and has been translated in nine languages.

At 75, his interest and activities in the cause of high medical standards are unimpaired. With his resignation as editor of the Journal of the American Association of Medicine, Medical World News reported that he made a new career for himself, and in the process, "moved from a national platform to an international pulp—a medical missionary in a blue flannel suit."

Clergymen's Luncheon Highlight Of 'Y' Week

The annual Clergymen's Luncheon was held on Friday, January 29th at the Newton YMCA. It was one of the highlights of the observance here of National YMCA Week.

Leonard D. Garfield, adult program secretary, was the speaker. He discussed the subject, "That They All May Be One."

Dr. Ray A. Eusden, minister emeritus of the Eliot Church, gave the invocation. Eldred Peterson presided.

Others who played key roles in the program included: Rev. Thomas H. Lehman, rector of Grace Episcopal Church; Rev. Paul G. Pitman, minister of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church; and Wilbur W. Bullen, president of the Newton YMCA, who greeted those attending the luncheon.

Mrs. Edmund Miller and Mrs. Frank Simmons were co-chairmen for the Women's Auxiliary Committee which served the luncheon.

"God Is A Spirit" Science Theme

"God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." This reference from the Gospel of John sets the theme of the Bible Lesson titled "Spirit" to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God" (pp. 334-5).

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (2:11): "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God."

He was a major in the Army Reserve during World War II. Mr. Moser and his wife are residents of Newton Highlands.

Our Lady's In Overtime Win

With George Berry accounting for 23 points, eight of them in overtime, Newton's Our Lady's High had a 74 to 66 upset win over Arlington Catholic in Catholic Suburban League play at Arlington last Friday night.

The win kept Our Lady's Tech Tournament hopes alive. The team must now win three of its last five contests to qualify under the 70 per cent ruling.

It was a come-from-behind victory for the Lancers. They trailed by 20 points in the third quarter, but Bill Barrett and Berry worked the fast break for 30 points, and Bill Finucane finally put his team even

Bonspiel Is Featured By Close Scores

The Sunday finals of Brae Burn Country Club's four-day mixed curling competition for the Kittredge Bowl produced exciting matches that saw the last stone decide all three event finals, each of the paired opponents being separated by only one point in the scoring totals.

Brae Burn's No. 1 rink, made up of Deac Chilton, skip, Dot Chilton, vice, Tom Oleson, 2, and Helen Oleson, 1, first lost to The Country Club No. 1, next turned the tables on Wellesley No. 2, but finally succumbed to Utica No. 1, which was a finalist in the Second Event.

The Chandlers, Bud and Sally, "Suds" Bissell and Sue Bryson, on Brae Burn No. 2, started with a win over Wellesley No. 1, lost to Utica No. 2, bested Chicago North Shore and then bowed to Winchester No. 2, which was a finalist in the Third Event.

Claire and Lou Pontius of 25 Larch road, Newton, headed the Bonspiel committee.

Hockey

They tuned up for their crucial clash with Arlington by overwhelming Somerville High, 12-1, at the Arena last Saturday. It was the highest score piled up by a Newton hockey team since 1957.

John Coyle tallied four goals and Dickey Toomey three as Newton rolled to its easy victory over Somerville. George Mechem chalked up two goals.

Other goals were hammered home by Jeff McLaughlin, Dave Mullare and Dick Dezotell.

Bob Toomey, Kim Britt, Elliot Feldman and Bob Barry were outstanding on defense, limiting Somerville to just four shots at the Newton nets. By contrast, the Tigers fired 50 shots at the Somerville goal.

Senior Ken Welch started at goalie for Newton, filling in for Kevin McLatchy who was recovering from a groin pull.

New Bentley Corporator

Morris G. Sherman of Waban, senior partner of M. G. Sherman & Company, Boston, has been elected a new Corporator for a five-year term at Bentley College of Accounting and Finance, Boston.

Lee Loumos Says:

I always breathe a small sigh of relief when the calendar flips over to February. I know that the worst storms of the year may still be ahead of us, but with the sun more than a month along on its journey back to us and the days getting obviously longer, the end of winter is now in sight.

Don't think this means I don't like winter, on the contrary, it is one of my favorite seasons. In fact, there are three other seasons of which I am equally fond—and equally happy when they pass and allow me to enjoy their successor. After four years of military duty entirely in tropic climes, I learned that, for me, all the glitter of the sun is not a golden life. The change of seasons symbolized the change and progress of life and we are privileged to have that experience each and every year, which in some subtle way keeps me from feeling too old, no matter how many years accumulate.

This, in short, is my credo of the native New Englander, so if you have listened to the sweet song of the Siren and have strayed south figuratively or actually, my call to you is simple "come on back."

Headlights And Highlights From Newton South High

By DANIEL LAX

Newton South's spring musical will be "Plain and Fancy," a story of the Pennsylvania Dutch, with the book by Stein and Glickman and the music by Horwith and Hague. This year the director will be Mr. Ernest Chamberlain and the musical director will be Mr. David Kaplan who says that the show will have more acting than those of previous years.

In the cast will be Eliot Marks as Dan and Carol Gordon as Ruth. These characters are sophisticated New Yorkers who visit the Pennsylvania Dutch. Playing the Amish people will be Laurie Asherman, Robert Runstein, Mark Cohen, John Shapiro, Deborah Glaser, and Sandra Zallen. A chorus will accompany the cast.

Newton South will again have a Science Open House night this year instead of a science fair. As was the policy last year, no formal judging will take place but rather a panel of teachers will select the two top exhibits which will then be shown at the Brandeis, and possibly other science fairs.

The purpose of this night is to provide an opportunity for students to demonstrate their projects while eliminating the pressure that used to prevail under the old science fair system. It will also allow parents to see what has gone on during the year in the science classrooms and labs. This year, Mr. Vincent Silluzzo and Mr. Berton Goldman will be in charge of the event.

The American Field Service (A.F.S.) an organization which is responsible for handling many of the exchange students who travel to foreign countries, has sent junior Steve Kerzner to spend a year in Brazil. He will begin classes on February 16 after an orientation period during which he will be able to acquaint himself with the language.

After four years of search, a motto has been chosen for Newton South. "Bon Mens Omnibus Patet," which means "A good mind is free for all men," was taken from "Epistula ad Licilium" by Seneca (54 B.C.-39 A.D.). The motto will go inside a seal designed by student Wayne Wills.

The Eastern Massachusetts Division of Student Councils is soon going to be holding its annual convention, this year on April 3. Joan Annis, vice-president of the affair and several other students have been working on such items as theme, speaker, decorations, finances, etc.

Paul Wiggins To Sing In Wayland

Paul Wiggins of Waban, soloist at Waban's Union Church, will be tenor soloist with the Community Chorus of Weston, Wayland, Lincoln and Sudbury at its winter concert Sunday, Feb. 7, at 3 p.m., in Wayland High School's Little Theater.

Newton South Club B Champs

The Newton South High Lions shaded Wakefield High at Boston Garden last Saturday night, and in so doing won Class B honors in the 48th annual State indoor track meet.

It was the Lions' first major title in the five-year history of Newton South's track team.

Said Coach Don Sutherland: "We knew we had a chance at winning it, but things could have been different if Wakefield started as strongly as it finished. It's a big reward for the boys on our team."

3 In A Row For South Cagers

Newton South High streaked to its 3rd straight win last Friday night in Arlington, where the Lions' hoopers won 60 to 51.

The win, once again, was behind good playing of Tom Lopez, Steve Cooper and Bob Geist. Lopez contributed 17 points and had 17 rebounds. Cooper, held to eight points, helped Lopez off the boards by grabbing 17 rebounds. Geist had 15 points.

South's extra-good foul line shooting put the victory on ice. The Lions were outscored 22 to 21 from the floor, but from the foul line they had an 18.7 edge.

Thelma Oldroyd

A requiem Mass for Mrs. Thelma (VanMarter) Oldroyd of 31 Fayette street, Newton, was offered in the Church of Our Lady, Saturday, Jan. 30.

The Rev. Francis J. Gallagher was celebrant.

Burial was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, Roslindale, with prayers by Father Gallagher.

Celia T. Woods

A requiem Mass for Mrs. Celia T. (Miller) Woods of 647 Watertown street, Newtonville, was offered Wednesday, Jan. 27, in the Church of Our Lady.

The Rev. Eugene Boyle was celebrant.

Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown, with prayers by Father Boyle.

Agnes G. Duffy

A solemn Mass of requiem for Miss Agnes G. Duffy, 73, of 55 Alban road, Waban, who worked in a Boston store for 50 years until her retirement in 1961, was offered in St. Philip Neri Church, Monday, Feb. 1.

Miss Duffy lived in Waban for 10 years, moving there from Brookline.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary T. Aylward of Waban; two brothers, Terrence L. of Somerville and James C. Duffy of Boston, and several nieces and nephews.

Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline.

Schools Here Hail Dental Health Week

"Healthier Teeth for a Happier Life" is the theme of the 17th annual Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 7-13, sponsored by the American Dental Association and being publicized in Newton elementary and parochial schools by means of classroom posters.

Hailing the Week as "an important reminder of the need to protect our children's teeth," the Newton Citizens for Dental Health congratulated Newton residents on their "good judgment and good fortune" in having a water fluoridation system that "can achieve dramatic reduction in tooth decay for generations to come."

Dr. Jack Bloom, president of the group, declared: "Newton can feel proud that it is proving itself a truly modern city in terms of public health. It is one of more than 3000 cities and towns throughout the U.S. that either naturally or artificially provide dental health protection thru fluoridation of the water supply."

"Over 20 years research by reputable dental and medical authorities has proven that children drinking properly fluoridated water have 60% fewer cavities than children not enjoying this scientific blessing. On the occasion of Children's Dental Health Week, we think Newton's parents should thank the electorate which voted for fluoridation in 1961 and reaffirmed its belief in fluoridation in 1963, when our $115,000 system was threatened with abandonment."

Martell Hurt, Tigers Losers

Newton High School's hoopers obviously underwent a letdown following their recent defeat of Weymouth, and last Friday let lowly Rindge Tech beat them 57 to 47 in Suburban League play in Cambridge.

Ben Martell suffered a twisted ankle in the first minute of the game, and it bothered him from then on, limiting him to 12 points. However, those 12 points boosted his 14-game total to 319, only 62 points away from Newton's single season scoring record.

John D. Fox, Fort Club Panelist

John D. Fox of 29 Brewster road, Newton Highlands, vice president, S. S. Pierce Company, will be one of the panelists Tuesday, Feb. 9, at a 5:30 p.m. dinner meeting of the Fort Hill Club sponsored by the Personnel Managers Club of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Discussion subjects will be "What Management Expects from the Personnel Director."

Three Priests Sing First Masses Here

Three Newton youths, ordained to the Roman Catholic priesthood at Holy Cross Cathedral, Boston, on Wednesday, February 10th, by Richard Cardinal Cushing, will sing their first Masses at local churches on Sunday, February 14th.

The new priests are: the Rev. John Francis Keane, son of Mrs. Thomas J. Keane, and the late Mr. Keane, 71 Woodlawn road, Auburndale; the Rev. Henry G. Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Chambers, 11 Talbot street, West Newton; and the Rev. Richard L. Casey, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter Casey, 18 Bonmar circle, Auburndale.

Father Keane will sing his first Mass at Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, at 11:30 a. m. on Sunday the 14th.

Officers of the Mass will be: Rev. John T. Feeney, assistant priest; Rev. James B. Tierney, deacon; Rev. Edward J. Toomey, sub-deacon; Rev. Lawrence P. Murphy, preacher.

Father Casey also will sing his first Mass at Corpus Christi Church but at 4 p. m. on the 14th.

Officers at the Mass will be: Rev. Russell H. Davis, assistant priest; Rev. Robert A. Hewitt, S. J., deacon; Rev. Paul T. Keyes, sub-deacon; Rev. Edward W. Beucier, preacher.

Lasell Junior College Dorm Plan Disputed

A dispute as to whether the Lasell Junior College needs permission from the City before it can build four dormitories on Woodland road in Auburndale, erupted at a hearing held Monday night by the City Planning Board and the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee.

The issue may be put to a court test if the city does not grant the college the right to erect the dormitories.

A large number of residents of the Auburndale area appeared at the hearing to oppose the application.

Richard A. Winslow of 20 Exeter street, West Newton, a trustee of the college, in presenting the petition, declared that Lasell Junior College is reserving the right to build the dormitories even if its application is not approved by the city.

Winslow explained that he was seeking Aldermanic approval in an effort to avoid extended and possibly expensive litigation and also "perhaps to maintain more amiable relations" with the city and persons living in the area.

Former Alderman Richard H. Lovell of 234 Park street, Newton, representing a group of abutters opposed to the construction of the dormitories.

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Democratic State Platform Is Considered Meaningless

This observer is somewhat startled that any attention should be paid to a plank in the platform adopted at last June's Democratic State Convention opposing the enactment of a sales tax.

Democratic Governors and legislators have been scrupulously ignoring their party platforms for years. Now one might gather the impression that there was some thing sacred and binding about the anti-sales tax plank which the Democratic conclave technically approved in a bedlam of noise and confusion.

The Democratic voters didn't think there was anything sacred or binding in the action of the same convention in endorsing ex-Governor Endicott Peabody for a second term.

They rejected Peabody in last September's primary and gave the Democratic gubernatorial endorsement to Francis X. Bellotti.

School, City Budget To Be Aired Monday

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will submit the 1965 city and school budget to the Board of Aldermen next Monday.

Although the Mayor trimmed about $1 million from the budget recommendations of his department heads, it is expected that the budget will be close to $2 million higher than last year's. Approximately half the increase would be for the school department.

In response to questions, Mayor Gibbs said it is much too early to forecast what this year's tax rate will be. However, a substantial rise in the rate is considered inevitable.

School Board Voting Favors Willis Report

Members of the Newton School Committee at their meeting on Monday night went on record in favor of the Willis Report which recommends a program for providing quality education in Massachusetts public schools.

School Board Chairman Haskell C. Freedman was authorized to appear before the Legislative committee on education at the State House to record the School Committee as favoring a bill based on the Willis-Harrington report.

Under the terms of the measure, the State Board of Education would be abolished and would be replaced by a Board of Public School Education for the grades from kindergarten through high school and a Board of Public Higher Education for colleges and universities.

Volpe Plan Could "Pick Newton Pockets"

Mayor Concerned Over Tax Distribution By Governor

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declared today that Governor Volpe's tax program would "pick the pockets of Newton citizens" for the benefit of other sections of Massachusetts.

Gibbs asserted that the elimination of the federal income tax deduction from the State income tax return would deal a heavy blow to the pocketbooks of the people in a high income city such as Newton.

"The loss of the federal deduction is a tax on a tax which I cannot condone," the Mayor stated.

Mayor Gibbs said he considers it would be unfair to pay a State income tax "on money you never get and never see."

The Mayor is adopting a wait-and-see attitude as far as Governor Volpe's sales tax proposal is concerned.

He is waiting to study the Governor's distribution formula for dividing the sales tax proceeds among the cities and towns of the Commonwealth so that he can form a judgment on whether Newton would get its fair share of the $150 million which would be raised.

While he is not pre-judging the case, Mayor Gibbs made it plain that he would not consider Newton as being fairly treated if the sales tax proceeds are to be distributed on the basis of the needs of the various cities and towns rather than on a per capita basis.

This would react to the advantage of the low-income cities and towns and to the disadvantage of high-income communities such as Newton.

Newton, Mayor Gibbs pointed out, would be penalized if the sales tax proceeds were distributed on the basis of wealth or need.

College Gets $50,000 From Local Couple

A Newton industrialist and his wife have given $50,000 to Connecticut College to endow a variety of public affairs activities within the College's department of government, President Charles E. Shain has announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice J. Bernstein of Newton Centre presented the gift in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Robert Horowitz of Brockton, a 1954 graduate of the liberal arts college for women. Bernstein is president of the American Biltrite Rubber Co. in Chelsea.

In announcing the new Bernstein Fund, President Shain stressed that its uses will intentionally remain flexible to permit the extension of numerous programs within the government department, as need and opportunity arise.

"We hope to be able to use the Fund to bring to the campus distinguished men

The Mayor said that he personally favors the enactment of a sales tax as a means of lowering real estate tax rates.

But he expressed doubt that he will support the Governor's sales tax bill if he decides the distribution formula is unfair to Newton and its citizens.

"I want to make sure Newton gets its fair share of whatever money would be raised by a sales tax," he emphasized.

"I think the Governor has got to be extremely careful about his distribution formula and what he does to the City of Newton," Gibbs added.

Mayor Gibbs said he has been under strong pressure to go along with the sales tax bill for the good of the Commonwealth as a whole.

"But as Mayor of Newton I feel I have a responsibility to fight for fair treatment for our city and its people," he declared. "I intend to try to fulfill that responsibility."

Study Program Planned To Fight "Drop Out" Problem

A part-time study program, which is intended to meet the drop-out problem, will be started at Newton High School next September on a trial basis.

This was voted by the School Committee Monday night after it was recommended by Richard W. Mechem, principal of Newton High School.

Under the plan, students who desire to leave school and go to work will be encouraged to continue their studies on a part-time basis while they are working.

Such students might finish five or even six years instead of the usual three years.

Dog Officer On Duty Monday

Newton's new dog-control officer will officially assume his duties next Monday (Feb. 15).

He is George J. Longbottom of 29 Emmons St., West Newton, a patrolman in the police department. Longbottom will be paid $1040 more a year for his services as dog officer than he is receiving at a patrolman.

Charles S. Rivers of 136

Dickerman Rd., Newton Highlands, also a patrolman on the city's police force, has been named as temporary dog officer. He will take over Longbottom's duties when the latter is on vacation or ill. Rivers will receive up to $520 a year for these services in addition to his patrolman's pay.

Both Longbottom and Rivers were appointed to their new posts this week by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs as preparations were made for the start next Monday of the program to police and control Newton's dog population.

Mayor Gibbs declared that steps will be taken immediately to purchase a truck and other equipment for Longbottom's use and to lease pound facilities from Newton veterinarians.

1000 Guests To Attend Local Hospital Dinner

A capacity attendance of 1,000 guests, a cross-section of Newton and Wellesley's civic-minded citizens, is now anticipated for the Community Dinner on Wednesday, February 24th, at Newton High School, according to Bernard D. Grossman, general chairman for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Building Fund Campaign for $3.5 million to provide essential expansion and modernization.

"The acceptances to the invitations sent out last week has been most gratifying," stated Mr. Grossman. "This response can mean only one thing—that those living and working in the Hospital's service area are ready to support the drive."

The key speaker will be Dr. Morris Fishbein, internationally noted for his life-long advocacy of high standards among doctors and in community hospitals. Dr. Fishbein will bring to the guests the theme of the growingly essential need to add to and bring up to date all of Newton-Wellesley Hospital's facilities, as an integral part of the great medical complex whose core rests in the city of Boston.

Among the dignitaries on the dais will be the Most Reverend Eric P. MacKenzie, Senior Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Boston; Dr. Abram Sachar, president of Brandeis University; Bernard D. Grossman, general chairman of the building fund drive; George L. White, chairman of the Hospital's Board of Governors; William S. Brines, the Hospital's director; and Dr. R. Emerson Sylvester, medical gifts chairman.

After the invocation by Bishop MacKenzie, each of these will speak on their area of interest in making Newton-Wellesley Hospital among the most modern of community hospitals in the country.

In these brief talks, each will summarize the recommendations of the medical staff, the Board of Trustees, the administrative section toward meeting the service needs for the coming decade.

This first major expansion of the Hospital in eighteen years will provide a new surgical department, a new X-ray department, new out-patient facilities, new laboratories and a section for in-hospital treatment of psychiatric patients.

The two-story Front Pavilion and five-story East Wing to the rear of the present building will make possible increased patient and treatment facilities in all of the Hospital's departments as well as for installation of seventy-five new beds that will raise the Hospital's bed capacity to 335. The modernized design will promote flexibility and efficiency at minimal operating cost.

LEADERSHIP AWARD—Newton Alderman William Carmen, right, presents Leadership Award to Ambassador R. S. S. Gunewardene, permanent representative to the United Nations from Ceylon, at Brotherhood Breakfast held by Jewish War Veterans.

Brotherhood Breakfast Honors Local Students

Two Newton youths were among the high school students honored at the 11th annual Brotherhood Breakfast of the Jewish War Veterans held last Sunday at Lyons Hall, Boston College.

They were Richard K. Betts of Newton High School and Robert Gladstone of Newton South High School.

In attendance at the breakfast were the parents of the two boys as well as Israel Trieger, commander of the Newton Post of the Jewish War Veterans.

Alderman William Carmen, who created the program in 1955, was the toastmaster at the Brotherhood Breakfast. Carmen is chairman of the national executive committee of the JWV.

Guest speaker at the breakfast was Ambassador R. S. S. Gunewardene, permanent representative to the United Nations from Ceylon.

Approximately 1200 persons, including 91 high school students from all sections of Massachusetts, attended the breakfast which is held annually on different college campuses.

Report

Freedman also was instructed to record the Newton School Committee as supporting two other bills.

One would exempt teaching interns from certification by the State Board of Education. The other would exempt teachers' aides from civil service.

Chairman Freedman commented at the meeting that the proposal for replacing the State Board of Education with two new boards is meeting with opposition from persons who object to the fact that none of the members of the new boards would be educators.

Freedman suggested that each committee member write to the two Senators and five members of the House who represent Newton districts, asking them to favor the legislation.

Stanley Russell, secretary of the committee, read a letter to the chairman he had written as a result of a telephone call he had received from Howard V. Jacobson of 44 Church St., Newton, who complained that his neighborhood was experiencing air pollution.

"It is an attempt to get at the foundation of mathematics," he said, "so that the youngsters will have a better idea of what it is all about."

"A new program, A.T.A., (Academically Talented in Arithmetic), was established in 1959 in elementary schools of Newton," Welch continued, "and it has many elements of what we call 'new math'."

Both the children and S.M.S.G., (School Mathematics Study Group), comprising teachers of mathematics, have done well, Welch told the committee, "and we feel that the new program we have tried out is ready for universal adoption."

New Religious Courses To Open At Our Lady's

New courses for adult religious education will begin in Our Lady's Parish Center, Newton, next week. Opening sessions of a course entitled "Principles of Teaching," designed to train laymen to teach religion to Catholic children and youth attending public schools, will be held next Thursday evening, February 18, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Mother Dorothy Holmes, R.S.C.J., of the Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, will conduct the course for high school teachers, and Miss Margaret Heinzmann will conduct the course for elementary school teachers. There will be 12 weekly sessions of 1½ hours each.

The courses are designed to complement the "Doctrine" course presented earlier this season but are open to anyone interested, whether that person wishes to teach or merely advance his or her own education along these lines.

The subject matter for the Principles of Teaching course includes classroom procedures, discipline, atmosphere, pupil-teacher relationships, lesson planning, child and adolescent psychology, and the unique role of teaching religion.

All interested adults are invited to attend and to participate in the course. There are no educational or professional requirements. Further details may be obtained by contacting Rev. Eugene Boyle at Our Lady's Rectory, 573 Washington Street, Newton, LA 7-7560, or the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, Office, 2121 Commonwealth Ave., Brighton, or by attending the opening session.

Also on the docket is an appropriation of $66,000, requested by the commissioner of public buildings, for the preparation of plans and specifications paving the way to construction of a new Bigelow Junior High School. The money is to be taken from surplus.

John E. Gilliland explained that soft coal was in use at the school, and that a special engineer had been making tests there to determine whether another type of fuel should be used.

The committee voted to refer the matter to Gilliland for action.

A considerable portion of the meeting's time was devoted to a report on developments in elementary and secondary school mathematics made by a team of three experts, Donald Welch, coordinator of elementary education; Mrs. Lee Evans, elementary mathematics consultant; and Eugene Ferguson, chairman of the mathematics department of the school system.

Asked if he was going to explain "the new math" to the committee members, Mr. Welch replied that "we have tried to get away from talk about a new math. What we are doing," he went on, "is something new that is intended to be meaningful to the children."

"It is an attempt to get at the foundation of mathematics," he said, "so that the youngsters will have a better idea of what it is all about."

"A new program, A.T.A., (Academically Talented in Arithmetic), was established in 1959 in elementary schools of Newton," Welch continued, "and it has many elements of what we call 'new math'."

Both the children and S.M.S.G., (School Mathematics Study Group), comprising teachers of mathematics, have done well, Welch told the committee, "and we feel that the new program we have tried out is ready for universal adoption."

Sisterhood To Hear Guitarist On February 17

The next meeting of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Avodah will be held on Wednesday, February 17th, at 8 o'clock at the Temple, 45 Puddingstone Lane, Newton Centre.

Featured on the program will be Mrs. Mark Aronson, noted guitarist, who will present a program of Hebrew and Jewish folk music. This part of the program is being held in conjunction with the observance of Jewish Music Festival Month in February. Refreshments will be served.

Action Due On Bigelow School, Street Repair

A request by Public Works Director Willard S. Pratt for an appropriation of $15,304.93 to reconstruct the north side of Commonwealth Ave. from Rowe St. to Lexington St. in Auburndale, is scheduled to be acted on at next Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Also on the docket is an appropriation of $66,000, requested by the commissioner of public buildings, for the preparation of plans and specifications paving the way to construction of a new Bigelow Junior High School. The money is to be taken from surplus.

Students Here Vounteer For Hospital Work

Evidence of what youths of school age can and will do is demonstrated in "Operation Kindness," a student volunteer service project sponsored each year by the Massachusetts Division of Civil Education and the School Bureau of United Community Services of Greater Boston.

Student volunteers, including some from Newton, have joined the operation and shown their dedication by putting in long hours of unpaid community service.

Volunteers from Newton this year included the following: Meadowbrook Junior High School students:

Sally Anderson, who served in New England Deaconess Hospital; Jacqueline Feldman, also New England Deaconess; Marjorie Kaplan, Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged; Patricia Carlin, Brookline Hospital; and Laurie Zallen, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Pro Arte Four In Concert At Junior College

Newton Junior College will present the Pro Arte Piano Quartet as the fourth event of its Arts and Music Series at 8:15 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 17, at College Hall, Washington Park, Newtonville.

This eminent quartet is composed of Boston Symphony players Einar Bech Hansen, violin; Jean Cauhape, viola; and Jacobus Langendoen, cello. Giuseppe DeLillis will be the pianist.

The all-Mozart program will include Klavier Quartette in G minor (K.478) and Klavier Quartette in E major (K.493). The latter work, which requires great artistry and superb skill, is seldom heard in recital.

The audience is invited to meet the artists at a reception in their honor following the concert.

The Newton Junior College Art and Music Series, 1964-1965, free of charge and open to the public, offers the Newton community cultural events of outstanding quality. The two remaining programs are a concert by Jesus Maria Sanroma, famous pianist, on March 17, and a production of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize play "The Skin of our Teeth" by the Newton Junior College Players on April 30 and May 1st.

and women practitioners of politics, for more than just brief visits, and to arrange for them to meet with a variety of student groups," the educator stated.

Other uses envisioned by President Shain for the Fund's income include the acquisition of additional political publications for the College's Palmer Library and the support of research interests of the government department faculty.

From time to time, a portion of the Fund's income may also be used to help support the existing summer internship program. Designed to provide practical undergraduate experience in the processes of government, this program each summer places four able seniors in government agencies and offices in Washington.

Letters

Parents Say "Thanks"

Editor of The Graphic:

On January twenty-first at the Newton Centre Playground, our four year old son was injured in a sliding accident. He suffered facial bruises and a fractured arm.

To William Gillette and Edward Lynch Jr., we would like to express our deep gratitude for the calm, efficient handling and kindness, shown to us during this emergency.

It is nice to know there are such competent young men in charge of the playground that our children attend.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Baldi,
120 Summer Street,
Newton Centre, Mass.

Rubbish and Dogs

Editor of The Graphic:

Since the city fathers are about to enact a restraining law for the canine population, they should at the same time put teeth into the present law regarding rubbish disposal which calls for covered metal containers.

I have come to dread Sunday evenings when the neighborhood trash is put out, for the Monday collection, much of it in paper bags and wastebaskets. My dog tours the neighborhood sniffing at all the aforementioned and is sometimes rewarded for her trouble, though quite often another dog has beat her to it and obtained all the goodies leaving the baskets and bags upset and rubbish strewn about. Some time ago an irate correspondent wrote indignantly of his trouble with dogs doing just that to his trash, condemning the poor dogs rather than his own sloppiness.

Rover has just given me another sleepless night due to her foraging habit with the consequent need to go out six or eight times to pay for her indiscretion.

Another practice which should be stopped is that of feeding one's pet outside the house where the unfinished meal or dirty dish attracts any and all comers, becoming a possible means of attracting mice and rats as well as other dogs. A former neighbor used to put down on the porch floor the contents of two cans of cat food before taking off for the weekend, which of course the cat never got. Another neighbor put out a while turkey carcass for the pet cat, which Rover finished off and later that night disgorged all over the living room rug.

I quite agree that the city is acquiring too many unruly dogs, largely due to those who put their dogs out at the crack of dawn and do not take them in till bedtime, but the non-dog-owner can help make dogs less of a nuisance by more sanitary trash disposal.

And I would remind the anti-dog folks that a neighborhood is just a little safer if there are a few alert dogs patrolling it in a controlled sort of way.

Sincerely, yours
"A Dog Owner, Auburndale."

Political Highlights

The suggestion that the delegates to the 1964 Democratic State Convention be reassembled to ascertain if they want to rescind the platform plank they adopted last June in opposition to a sales tax is sheer nonsense.

We wouldn't want to disillusion anybody, but the truth is that a platform adopted by a Democratic State Convention usually means nothing.

In most such party platforms, you will find so many

Meeting Advances Plans For New Newton Library

The Coordinating Committee for the Newton Free Library, which was formed for the purpose of supporting recommendation of the recent survey for a new central library in Newton Centre on the site of the old Mason School met at the home of Mrs. Melvin Gordon, chairman, this week.

Guest speakers were Mrs. Fairman C. Cowan, chairman of the Friends of the Worcester Library and Mr. Norman Meyer, treasurer of the Friends of the Wellesley Library. Both Worcester and Wellesley have a new library and the committee felt that much could be learned from their experience.

Mrs. Cowan as well as Mr. Meyer agreed that their library circulation has almost doubled since the new library was built and they also agreed that it has contributed to an increase in the local business activities.

The survey, financed by the city, was conducted by John A. Humphrey and Philip J. McNiff, Library Consultants, who found the existing Newton main library to be outmoded, outworn and inefficient. The new Mass. Turnpike Extension has also made it extremely difficult to reach.

A well designed, modern library would make our excellent book collection more readily available to the public, as would the proposed site which is close to the geographical and population centers of the city. The proposed building could serve as

Gala Puppet Festival By Woman's Club Here

The first New England Puppet Festival open to the public will be held at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, 1280 Centre St., Newton Centre, on Saturday, February 13th.

Mrs. Blitzer, program chairman of the Woman's Club, announced that the festival will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be continuous entertainment all day with shows, exhibits, demonstrations and refreshments.

The smorgasbord of entertainment will include the top talent and skill of all the professional puppeteers of the New England area. There will be wall-to-wall displays, adult and child - geared performances, a penny candy sale—and to top off the day, the raffling of a puppet theatre. And for the losers in the raffle a chance to see how to make one themselves. F.A.O. Schwartz will have a display of their German Steiff puppets there.

Something old is the ancient art of puppetry enjoying a tremendous revival—something new is to have this venture at the 78-year old Woman's Club. The growing ranks of puppet enthusiasts know no age. Even the smallest child who feels shy can be something else through this medium.

Highlights of the day will be a "Puppet Sampler" by Edgar and Lanelle Rice of Wellesley Hills, which features the different types of puppets and tells how they work; Johnny Sisson is a masterful clown, puppeteer and magician who will entrance with his makeup job in front of the audience; the "Shadow Puppets" of Herbert Hosmer's Toy Cupboard Theatre will intrigue all; the Newton Centre Woman's Club's own Young Newton Players who have been operating under the direction of Eleanor Boylan for the past few years in original musicals written by Mrs. Boylan will put on "The Bremen Town Musicians," a new adaptation of an old favorite.

Other well-known puppeteers who will demonstrate their talents are Helen Ferguson down from New Hampshire with her Flapdoodle Puppets, Gordon Bennett, Mimi Hanson, Mark Horsman, Bob Munstedt from Needham, Dorothy Rankin—and last, but not least on this incomplete list, Carroll Spinney, who is Mr. Lion on "Bozo."

The Ruth Brand Puppet Players will also be featured. Ruth Brand, star of "Rhinceros" at the Charles Playhouse last year has her own individually-created puppets on display this month in the Boston Public Library.

All of this is possible because of Eleanor Boylan, a Newton Centre Woman's Club member, who is president of the New England Guild of Puppetry. No need to go home for lunch and miss a single show. A picnic lunch will be served, as long as it lasts, for the benefit of the Woman's Club's many philanthropies, one of which is to give a Newton girl, high-school graduate, a scholarship each year in April. Tickets will be available at the door, but children must be accompanied by an adult.

Reasonable prices for lunch, but please call DE 2-6571 or BI 4-7914 for plans for large groups for lunch or information. The ingredients of the lunch have been offered by large companies throughout the Greater Boston area.

The Toastmasters Club of Newton recently met with the Newton-Waltham Toastmistress Club to debate the question "Should Man be King of the Jungle?"

The debate followed a combined dinner meeting in the Beacon Room of the Simpson House, Newton Highlands. Toastmistress members were articulate in their belief that women of today are lengthening their stride to keep abreast with men in the field of science, education, politics and business.

Moderator for the panel was Roland Bougeois, Waltham, president of the Custom Welding Company of Newton.

Expounding their theories for the affirmative were the following Toastmasters: John Neville, Newtonville, cost analyst, and Thomas Silk, West Newton, insurance.

DAR Chapter Decorates Bank Window Again

Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, as a part of its effort to encourage the study of American history, decorates the window of Newton Savings Bank in Newton Highlands every February, emphasizing the importance of America's heritage.

This year Mrs. H. L. Walen, Sr., and Mrs. Thomas M. Desmond have arranged an attractive display of Americana. Antiques, historical documents, pictures of American heroes, and books of American history are some of the objects which combine to make the display one to catch the eye of the passer-by. Silver spoons, cast in the fashion of the "old days," lie near blue and white plates depicting famous places; a tall copper pitcher from another century stands near some charming old crockery. A picture of Lincoln, and prints of historical scenes, add to the interest. Prominent is Governor John A. Volpe's proclamation designating February as American History Month.

is it wise to BORROW?

If a soundly arranged loan would help you and your family to live better, cut expenses or improve your income, it's a good indication that you will find it advantageous to borrow. Your loan would bring these important objectives into reach immediately.

Think of the advantages of having — without waiting months or years to accumulate the full price — your own home . . . a better car for Dad's traveling job . . . time and work-saving appliances. These are just a few examples of where prudent borrowing can improve your family's financial outlook and standard of living.

If you can use a loan for a productive purpose, apply at Newton Savings Bank. Service is prompt, courteous and confidential. And you borrow at low bank rates.

Camp Fire Girl Leaders And Adults In Annual Meeting

Their sincere interest not only in their own program but in their community and the world around them was brought out at the recent Annual Meeting of the Newton Camp Fire Girls for leaders, assistant leaders, sponsors and adult members.

Mrs. Benjamin Loeb of Newton Centre spoke of the exciting and creative program, "The Metropolitan Critical Areas Project" of the Greater Boston Camp Fire Girls in conjunction with Boston University. This project originates from the National Council Camp Fire Girls and was made possible by one of the first grants to come out of the Children's Bureau of the National Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Because the Camp Fire Girls' program is a flexible one and stresses the importance and individuality of each girl and her loyalty to the group, this program was chosen to be used.

Mrs. Barbara Learoyd, field director, brought the wonderful news of the campsite purchased by the Greater Boston Council at East Otis in the Berkshires. These 132 acres with a self-enclosed Great Pond will be for use by the Junior Hi and Horizon Club Camp Fire Girls, and will have an excellent counselor training program.

This is "National Cooperation Year" in the United Nations celebrating its 20th birthday. Mrs. Melvin Shoul came to tell of the work of UNICEF, of the people of varied backgrounds and countries working together promoting children's and mothers' health and welfare benefits.

Program highlight of the evening was the Camp Fire Story as told in film by Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten, stressing Indian lore and symbolism as used in the Camp Fire program. Mrs. Hopengarten also showed films of the new camp in East Otis.

The following groups were honored with citations for selling 24 boxes of candy by each girl during the recent candy sale: Mrs. George MacDonald, Mrs. Lyman Ziegler, Mrs. George Rautenberg, Mrs. Henry Parodi, Mrs. Stanley Belcher, Mrs. Bernard Rome.

Retiring board members who had served for six consecutive years each were honored for their devotion to the ideals of the Camp Fire Girls' program — Mrs. Howard Boardman, Mrs. Harold Hurst, Mrs. S. W. Hopengarten, Mrs. Harold S. Williams.

The newly-elected members of the Newton District Committee are:

Chairman, Mrs. Lee A. Rowe; vice chairman, Mrs. Eugene Hirschberg; secretary, Mrs. Walter Dobler; treasurer, Mrs. Stanford Dennison.

AN INTRODUCTION

Are you a client or a customer of an insurance agent? There is a difference — a client purchases insurance . . . but a customer is sold a policy.

A client calls his insurance man for advice on many matters — it is a relationship based on mutual trust and respect. A customer usually doesn't remember whom he should call.

A client's best interests are carefully looked after; a customer is just a name on a file card.

A client's claim is a matter of urgency that receives respectful attention because after all, fair claim settlement is the final proof of sound insurance. A customer's claim receives routine processing by a person who usually doesn't care.

At MacIntyre, Fay & Thayer, insurance is practiced as a profession. We point with pride to our large number of clients who have been with us for many years and increasing numbers of new faces who inquire about our special services. It is with professional confidence that we hang out "the sign of sound insurance."

The reservations for tables closed on February 1 officially but the Ball had been sold out before that date.

Attractive decorations will transform the Newton Armory from a military post into a society atmosphere and music by the Glenn Miller band, under the direction of Ray McKinley, will keep the dance floor filled from 10 o'clock until 2 in the morning, on February 12th.

Mrs. Robert M. Mustard is general chairman of the Ball. Heads of various committees are Mrs. James Schreiber, Mrs. Norman E. MacNeil, Mrs. Reinhold Carlson, Mrs.

Conroy, Dr. and Mrs. Francis H. Earthrowl Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Hibbard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Franks, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur E. O'Dea, Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Farley, Dr. and Mrs. William J. FEBRUARY IS HEART FUND —MONTH— GIVE AS GENEROUSLY AS YOU CAN more will LIVE the more you GIVE

Victory over heart disease begins at your door-step . . when a Heart Fund volunteer calls for your Heart Sunday contribution.

The day of conquest may be closer than you think. Today, we stand on the verge of great discoveries — breakthroughs that will help medical science develop new life-saving methods of preventing and treating heart and circulatory diseases.

These diseases now kill more than 920,000 Americans each year, causing more than 54 percent of all deaths. In this country, they afflict over 10 million persons, including an estimated 500,000 children.

More Heart Fund dollars are vitally needed to speed research, so that the breakthroughs may come in time to help you and your family. More dollars also are needed to expand your Heart Association's programs of education and community service in order to bring the benefits of research to you and your family.

So put out the welcome mat for your Heart Fund volunteer. Study with care the heart-saving information she brings to your home. And give generously to the Heart Fund, your No. 1 defense against our No. 1 health enemy. Remember, "More will Live — the More you Give."

South High Hockey 1-1 Tie Talled

Newton South High School's hockey team played a 1-1 tie with Westwood High in a Dual County League game at the Loring Arena in Framingham last Saturday.

Peter Magner sent Newton South into a 1-0 lead just before the end of the first period. The Lions clung to that slim advantage until early in the third period when Bill Holbrook knotted the count for Westwood. There was no further scoring in the tight defensive contest.

Equipment Featured In Final First Aid Class

The final class of the First Aid Course of the Newton Health Department was given over to a demonstration and explanation of the equipment and operation of the First Aid Emergency Ambulance, which has been used by the Newton Police Department for several years.

This was conducted last week by Gilbert Champagne, an officer in the Newton Police Department, who was assisted by Patrolmen Zilenski and Howley. Mr. Champagne demonstrated and explained each piece of equipment carried in the Emergency Ambulance—resuscitator, stretcher, splints, oxygen, tanks, crowbar, flares, rope, fire extinguisher and first aid kit.

There are four of these Emergency Ambulances available in the city, one in each district. Since these vehicles are equipped with two way radios, it makes quick and efficient response possible. The officers are all trained in real first aid care.

The first Aid Course just completed was attended regularly by 67 people from 41 public and private schools, members of the Recreation, Engineering, Street, Health and Forestry Departments, the Division of Instruction and School Department, and several private nursery school teachers.

The following physicians were the instructors of the course: Dr. Joseph Osborne, Dr. Robert Steinsieck, Dr. Milton Gilson, Dr. Bradford Thompson, Dr. Theodore Shane.

Mr. Gilbert Champagne of the Newton Police Department was also an instructor in the particular field of artificial respiration.

A temporary first aid booklet was given to each member of the course. Other copies will be distributed to schools and departments for consideration and evaluation.

'Women Of Valor' By Sisterhood Of Temple Reyim

Jean Lewis, president of the New England branch, National Women's League, United Synagogue of America, will address a meeting of the Temple Reyim Sisterhood on Wednesday evening, February 17 at the Ord's Social Hall of the Temple, 1860 Washington Street, Auburndale.

Also on the program, according to Sisterhood president, Mrs. Gilbert Salk, will be an original playlet entitled "Women of Valor" presented by the Program and Torah Fund Committees. It will depict memorable episodes in the lives of Mathilde Schechter, Henrietta Szold, Eleanor Roosevelt and Jacqueline Kennedy.

The cast includes Mrs. Gene Dennis, Mrs. Charles Roazen, Mrs. Saul Stern, Mrs. Saul Klashman, Mrs. Sidney Gorfinkle, and Mrs. Ruben Brown.

Local Red Cross Disaster Crew At Boston Fire

The disaster services of Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, were at the scene of the recent fire that destroyed Sacred Heart Church in East Boston.

Boston firefighters, at the time, were combating three major fires simultaneously. Under a mutual aid agreement, the Boston Red Cross requested help to reinforce its own efforts in the emergency.

Representing Newton at the fire were Robert Dangel, John Lucas, John Clisham and the chairman of Newton disaster services, Parker Wahn. The previous week the local disaster services responded to a call by the Newton fire and police departments, and reported to the fire in the Chestnut Hill Garage on Commonwealth Ave., near Boston College. At that 2 a.m. fire, John Lucas, Richard Smith and Parker Wahn were present.

tories, challenged the statement by Winslow.

Lovell insisted that the city's ordinances apply to college dormitories and served notice that his clients would contest any other ruling in the courts.

The proposed dormitories, which are the subject of the dispute, would be three-story masonry structures and would accommodate a total of 240 girls.

Dr. Bleke Tewksbury, president of Lasell Junior College, testified that the college is seeking to enlarge its facilities so that it may accommodate a larger number of girls seeking to enroll in the college.

He said it would be easier to continue with the present enrollment of 700 students but that he feels the college has a responsibility to accommodate a small portion of the applicants now turned away. The dormitories would be erected at 245 Woodland road.

Eugene Galton of 244 Woodland road, in opposing the petition, declared that the college is disregarding the traffic problems which the erection of the dormitories would create.

Galton said that inadequate provisions have been made for off-street parking, that the housing of 240 girls in the dormitories would generate too much traffic on the narrow streets in the section and that values of nearby homes would be lessened.

Former Alderman Lovell criticized the petitioners for not submitting specific plans for the structures and for traffic patterns. Lovell said that the Woodland Neighborhood Association had filed the names of more than 200 residents who opposed the petition.

Leonard I. Levine of 3 Wiliston street, Auburndale, president of the Williams School PTA, recorded the executive committee of his association as unanimously opposed to the application. William C. Wyman said the increase in traffic on Woodland street would jeopardize the safety of an estimated 100 children who use the street to reach the Williams School.

Newton High In Thrilling Tie With Arlington

Newton High School's hockey team staged a thrilling come-from-behind drive to tie unbeaten Arlington High 4-4 at the Boston Arena last Saturday in what was the most exciting schoolboy game of the season.

But Arlington stands to win the GBI League championship unless it is unexpectedly defeated in one of its five remaining contests.

With a record of eight wins and one tie, Arlington holds a two-point lead over Newton which has won seven games, lost one and tied one.

In the first game between the two teams this season Arlington edged Newton 2-1.

Thus, in the two contests they have played Arlington has scored a total of six goals and Newton five.

Newton and Arlington will not play each other again this season unless they meet in the State tournament.

Things looked bleak for the Tigers during the first two periods of last Saturday's game.

At the start of the third period the score stood 4-1 in favor of Arlington. Newton's lone goal up to that point had been scored by Dick Toomey in the second period.

But the Tigers roared back in the final stanza, with Jeff MacLaughlin scoring two goals, the first on a pass from John Coyle, the second after the Arlington goalie had blocked a shot by Dave Mullare.

Bob Toomey, star defenseman, finally deadlocked the score at 4-4 on a tremendous solo effort after just less than eight minutes of play in the last period.

Newton's final period play was praised by hockey experts as rating with the best brand of schoolboy hockey they had ever observed.

The Tigers outplayed their Arlington opponents who obviously were bewildered by the force of the Newton comeback.

Had the game lasted slightly longer, Newton undoubtedly would have won it.

But Arlington was saved by the final buzzer and was lucky to escape with a tie, while Newton had to settle for the same deadlock.

Now unbeaten in its last seven games, Newton plays Rindge at the Arena at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Rehabilitation Needs Shown To Newton Mental Health Group

Speaking at a recent meeting in the Community Center, sponsored by Action for Mental Health in Newton, Dr. Harold Lee, director of rehabilitation and assistant superintendent of Medfield State Hospital, told his audience that the mental patient needs to know that his community cares.

With the help of slides, Dr. Lee described the hospital's advanced rehabilitation program, its research facilities and doctor-training, and its new area called a "Human Relations Laboratory."

Medfield's program is one of the most effective in the Commonwealth, the doctor declared, and explained that it was carried out in conjunction with 10 neighboring colleges for students interested in careers in mental health.

"The big gap is between the time of discharge and re-entry into society," he went on. "As an increasing number of patients are discharged from the hospital, we find it more and more difficult to properly follow them up in the community due to limitations in our staff. We desperately need the help of the community."

Dr. Gershen Rosenblum volunteered from the audience the revealing statistic that there is a dramatic decrease of 33 1/2 percent in readmissions with proper after-care.

Speaking on a panel with Dr. Lee were: Willis A. Scott, director of social service; Mrs. Rodman C. Nowers, director of volunteers; Miss Margaret Plumley, director of occupational therapy, and Mrs. Louise Bozyczko, occupational therapist in rehabilitation.

Mr. Scott spoke of an expanding volunteer program in which all social agencies could be used more effectively to help the individual make the reentry into society. "It is in this transitional period between a structured program and an unstructured program where he very often regresses. People of all ages, from 16 years up can work in this area with excellent results."

In conclusion, Kenneth Huberman, president of Action for Mental Health in Newton, called for a steering committee to be formed of representatives from various social agencies, churches and interested volunteers to further investigate the immediate needs of the discharged patient and to implement a program to fit them. AMHIN will be the coordinating agent under the chairmanship of Mrs. Bernice Huberman.

First Baptist Men Breakfast On Wednesday

Men of the First Baptist Church in Newton have been meeting regularly each Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock for breakfast in the church.

In addition to breakfast there is a 30-minute period of group discussion.

Russell Monto, Wilfred Esty and Dexter Whittinghill comprise the breakfast committee. The pastor, the Rev. Harold A. Malmberg, presides.

Guest speakers have included Dr. Edwin Taylor, the Rev. Hans Stepperfenne of Germany and Dr. C. B. Carpenter of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

"Exalt The Lord" Science Text

The dramatic account from the Book of Genesis telling how Joseph met the many challenges to his trust in God through the years will be heard in detail on Sunday at Christian Science churches in the Bible Lesson entitled "Soul."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (99:9): "Exalt the Lord our God, and worship at his holy hill; for the Lord our God is holy."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be heard, and will include this: "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul" (p. 60).

The conference will open at 8:30 o'clock, Saturday, evening. The Sunday session will begin at 10:30 a.m.

New Apartment Preview Opens This Weekend

A sneak preview will be held this weekend, Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., of a one family house which is a replica of a new 95 unit residence luxury apartment building. Sargent Estates Manor, now nearing completion on a wooded site in Brookline and scheduled for occupancy this Spring. The house is up for rent.

Located at 22 Chestnut Pl. and Chestnut St. on land formerly part of the Sargent family estate, the residence building is about equidistant from Jamaica Pond and Chestnut Hill Shopping Center.

Sargent Estates Manor offers six efficiencies, 47 one-bedroom and 42 two-bedroom apartments and a total of nine different floor plans. There are wide picture windows in each living room and bedroom. All baths are fully ceramic tiled and every kitchen is completely equipped with RCA-Whirlpool appliances, including counter-top gas range, large built-in wall oven, 15 cubic foot refrigerator with separate freezer compartments, dish washer and waste disposer. There is a complete laundry and drying facility on each of the six floors. The building is entirely air conditioned and there are thermostatic controls in each apartment; both heating and cooling is provided by the Boston Gas Company.

An activities room on the ground floor enables any resident to give a party, entertain friends, or host a club meeting without disturbing his living room. Also on the ground floor are coin-operated dispensers of bread, milk and frozen foods and for the increased privacy of residents, a servant's lounge for relaxation of help between serving hours.

Guaranteed parking for residents and ample reserve for the guests is assured by assigned parking spaces in the 36-car garage or the 85-car parking lot. An open sundeck overlooks a large outdoor swimming pool and its surrounding terrace. Off among the trees is a putting green for the weekend golfer.

NEWTON DEALER HONORED — Saturday Evening Post publisher Jess L. Ballew, right, presents the Benjamin Franklin Quality Dealer Award plaque to the 1965 national winner, Herbert A. Abramson of Newton. Mr. Abramson, 34, the youngest and also the first New England dealer to receive the award, is president of Silver Lake Motors, Inc., Newton Dodge dealer. Mr. Abramson's selection as "Automobile Dealer of the Year" was announced at a Saturday Evening Post breakfast at the opening of the National Automobile Dealers Association's annual convention in Las Vegas recently.

Open Space Planning In Newton Discussed

The gathering momentum of the Open Space Race in this third most densely populated metropolitan area in the United States was the subject of a panel discussion at the recent annual meeting of Newton Conservators, Inc. Benjamin F. Shattuck, president, presided.

Panelists who described planning efforts at local, metropolitan and state levels were: James A. Miller, director of Newton's Planning Department, Robert G. Davidson, executive director of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council, and Bruce S. Gullion, director of the Division of Conservation Services of the Department of Natural Resources.

Mr. Miller's department in Newton is busy with a number of projects which make up its 1965 work program. A Capital Improvement program for Newton's next six years projected against the city's anticipated revenue has been completed.

Specific open space recommendations in this CIP have been made for golf and skating facilities at Cold Spring Playground; use of the former infirmity property; a modest expenditure for improvements at Edmonds Park this year and further development in 1967, and several smaller projects.

"Not to be forgotten," said Mr. Miller, "are the CRP recommendations for retention of existing reservations along the Charles River in four of the six CRP study areas and acquisition of additional land along the Charles where possible." The four study areas referred to include Newton Upper Falls, Newton Lower Falls, Nonantum and Newton Corner.

Mr. Miller reported that his department is now consulted on all sales of city-owned land. At present a study is being made of numerous offers for land at the edges of Cochituate Aqueduct which Newton purchased from the Metropolitan District Commission in 1952 and reconditioned for use as a trunk sewer. Some excess land at the aqueduct's widest points may be sold, but only after careful study by the Planning Department.

"By mid-summer this year a complete review of Newton's Zoning Ordinances will get under way," said Mr. Miller. Such a review has not been done since 1952 following the Adams, Howard and Greeley Report. The present reconditioning of the zoning ordinances by the Law Department is nearing completion and will include all ordinance amendments since 1960 when the ordinances were last printed.

The comprehensive general plan for Newton, sometimes called the master plan, is being pushed at a rapid rate, reported Mr. Miller. It will make recommendations for the following five categories: land use needs, major thoroughfares, community facilities, schools, recreation and conservation planning.

The Newton Planning Department is and will continue to coordinate its work with various regional and metropolitan planning projects, one of which is the Boston Regional Planning Project studying the communities along Rte. 9 from Brookline to Ashland.

The local flood plain zoning study, being undertaken at the request of the Conservators, will be made available to the Metropolitan Area Planning Council which has also initiated such a study in connection with its Open Space and Recreation Program. The Newton Planning Department also has direct communication with the MAPC through Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner who is chairman of the aldermanic city planning committee and who represents Newton on the executive committee of the MAPC.

A representative of the Charles River Civic Association was hopeful that at least a small play area could be part of any future rehabilitation plans north of the Newton Corner tollroad interchange.

For this area the MDC skating rink planned for Nonantum Rd. at the Newton-Brighton line may prove of some help, particularly if a pedestrian crossing could be approved for Nonantum Rd. According to former Commissioner Robert Murphy's report at the annual MDC public hearing last Oct. 30, construction on this rink may begin by fall of 1965.

City officials present at the meeting were Aldermen Flaschner, Harry H. Ham, Jr., David W. Jackson, Jack M. Roberts, and City Clerk Monte G. Basbas.

In charge of refreshments and decorations were Mrs. William P. Ripley, Mrs. Benjamin F. Shattuck, Mrs. Melvin I. Darack, and Mrs. Franklin N. Flaschner.

Mr. Shattuck was reelected president of the corporation and Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., and Allard M. Valentine were reelected clerk and treasurer, respectively. Directors serving unexpired terms are: Mrs. Darack, Mrs. Arno H. A. Heyn, Mrs. Frank A. Howard, James H. Lewis, Mrs. Ripley, Mr. Roberts, Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, Dr. Augustus Thorndike and Irving Usen.

In the women's division, Susan Josephs and Mrs. Elyse Katz, both of Newton, finished third.

"Return Over Cost"

In all of these examples the net cost of insurance at the end of five years is very low when compared with the premiums paid.

In ten years, and beyond, the policy's cash value and the sum of dividends amounts to much more than total premium payments. The difference is called your "return over cost."

Return over cost figures are even more attractive when dividends are allowed to accumulate at interest.

3 Savings Bank Life Insurance

The true "cost" of any life insurance policy can be determined by weighing the premium against the dividends the policy earns and comparing the result with the growing cash and loan values. Low premiums, high dividends and generous cash values are ideal.

Our new booklet, "You can afford SBLI", illustrates the true "cost" of all policies with understandable charts like the above. When you consider the long-range benefits, you'll insist on Savings Bank Life Insurance.

Newton Residents Plan To Attend Camp Ass'n Parley

Newton residents well-known in educational and youth camping fields will again contribute in unusual measure both to the attendance and the active program participation for the Region 1 convention of the American Camping Association, to be held at the Hotel Statler-Hilton, Friday and Saturday, February 12 and 13.

This year, in addition to the outstanding adult participation in workshops and seminars, a group of Newton youngsters will entertain the convention at the Saturday luncheon, always a well-attended highlight of the convention. The Troubadors, boys and girls from the Weeks and Warren junior high schools of Newton under the leadership of Donald Sullivan and Ray Smith, directors, will present a group of songs from the Ballroom Stage.

Dr. Joel Bloom, a member of the program committee for the convention, will also chair two different sessions. On Friday morning he will lead an open discussion by directors and staff of independent resident camps — the "private" camps. On Saturday morning Dr. Bloom will chair a session on "What's New Under the Sun" which will present and consider the latest developments in research in camp settings.

Orville H. Emmons, executive of the New England Area Council of YMCA's will speak at a Friday morning "Kindred Interest" group session of the YMCA. On Saturday afternoon, Sophia Gelavitz will direct a workshop on "Using Native Materials in your Craft Program." Mrs. Raymond McAuley of Newton Upper Falls will speak on a "Longterm Day Camp Plan" at the Friday morning session of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Mrs. McAuley represents the Bay Path Colonial Council. Sid Morrison, also of Newton, will be a resource panelist at a Saturday morning workshop on "Mountain Trip Equipment and Menu Planning." Mr. Morrison, of the Newton firm, Chuck Waggoners, will speak on cooking needs and ideas for on-the-trail camping.

The convention is expected to bring more than 1200 attendants from the six New England states, in addition to distinguished guests and speakers from other parts of the country.

Members of the group will be assisting at this affair, which is being sponsored by the combined Republican organizations of Newton.

Those interested in joining the Newton Teen-age Republican Club should call Star Willmarth at 244-3454.

Barbara Ellen Hurwitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hurwitz, 24 Van Wart Path, Newton Centre, and Francine R. Players Seek Entrees For Show Tryouts

The Country Players of Newton invite those interested to come to the open tryouts to be held Tuesday, February 16, and on Wednesday, February 17, at 8:00 p.m. at the Meadowbrook Junior High School auditorium, Newton Centre. Directed by Harriet Wilson, this production of "Damn Yankees" will be performed on May 7, 8, and 9.

Interested persons are invited to join in as either actors or technicians — the more merrier. It's fun to pitch in and help with costumes, lighting, make-up or scenery painting.

To an audience of young heart patients, as part of this month's drive of the Massachusetts Heart Association, the Players are presenting "The Sleeping Princess," directed by Kenneth MacDonald. Other recent productions include "Inherit the Wind," "Guys and Dolls" and "Make a Million."

Alumnae Ass'n Of Radcliffe Holds Two Teas

Two teas at the Alumnae House in Cambridge were expected to bring members of the Radcliffe Alumnae Association to the campus from all over the country.

One was given yesterday, (Wednesday) Feb. 11. The other is scheduled for today (Thursday), from 3:30 to 5:30, and is for mothers and daughters.

At the Wednesday tea, pourers included Mrs. Hyman B. Ullian of Newton Centre, and Roxana Brooks of Newton was an invited freshman.

Pourers at the Thursday tea will include Mrs. Lester B. Radlo of Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Warren Rabb of Waban, chairman of class organization, will be one of the guests of honor.

Valentine Spirit Theme In Church Of The Messiah

The 10:30 a.m. service at the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, on Sunday, Feb. 14, will attempt to invest the "Valentine Spirit" with Christian teaching about love and marriage.

Married couples are encouraged to be present to renew their marriage vows. Holy Communion will be celebrated with the special intention of asking God's blessing on the marriages of those present and in seeking guidance from God for those who plan to be married.

The sermon topic is: "Christian marriage."

A "Valentine Box" will be located at the entrance to the church from which everyone will be invited to draw the name of a Saint or a biblical passage which will suggest a Christian example or virtue to be emulated for the year, thus recalling a very ancient custom.

Club Women In Annual Visit To State House

Monday, Feb. 15, is Federation Day at the State House. Members of the Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs will make their ninth annual visit to Beacon Hill, meeting at 10 a.m. in the House of Representatives, where Federation greetings will be given by the president of the organization, Mrs. Frederick J. Wood of Newtonville, and Speaker John F. X. Davoren will give the official State House welcome.

There will be an address by Governor John A. Volpe.

The members will be given a choice of tours—State House Archives or legislative hearings.

In the afternoon, from 1 to 3 o'clock, there will be a choice of interviews with legislators and visits to the galleries to observe Senate and House sessions.

Sacred Heart Loses 58 to 54

Sacred Heart got off to a 10-point lead Sunday afternoon in its Catholic Suburban League game with Immaculate Conception of Revere.

That happened in the first three minutes, but the Newton cagers could score only 13 points in the next 13 minutes, while the enemy was amassing 26.

The Revere team was never headed from then on, and the final score was Sacred Heart 54, Immaculate 58.

Valentine Barn Dance By PTA

A Valentine barn dance, sponsored by Davis School PTA, will be held, Friday evening, Feb. 12, from 8 to 10 o'clock, in the Franklin School Auditorium, on Derby Street.

Today's Agri Fact: Lou Webster of the Dept. of Agriculture comments that at the Eastern States Exposition in West Springfield there was a surprising display of mink furs. Lou reminds us that in the early days of this country some of the big fortunes were founded on the fur trade. Now wild furs are being replaced by furs from animals grown with as much care as cattle or horses. It is estimated that several million dollars worth of minks are sold from Mass. farms, in some years doubtless exceeding the total value of potatoes.

Motorists in 1963 raced down the nation's highways to a new, all-time auto death record which for the first time exceeded 42,000 fatalities. This tragic toll topped the figure of nearly 40,000 persons killed in 1941—a record high which stood for twenty years—and even surpassed the new record of 40,500 deaths established in 1962.

Kiwanians Told Of Local Urban Needs

Newton Kiwanians were called upon to join hands with other communities to help solve the local problems emerging from the Boston metropolitan community, by Benjamin R. Alexander at the recent meeting of the local service organization.

Mr. Alexander, a member of the Executive Committee of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council, was the speaker at the dinner meeting held at Valle's Steak House.

He advised the members of the Kiwanis Club of the need to recognize that the City of Newton is a member of a high density urban complex and that the new problems need regional solutions.

Alexander, a member of the Milton Planning Board and strong advocate of regional planning, outlined the power and organization of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council.

"The Council is a legislatively created association of cities and towns in the Boston region and is charged with the development of a continuing comprehensive planning process for over 2 million people," Alexander said.

"Any recommendations on planning programs are purely advisory and have no force of law. The cities and towns must judge and either accept or reject the Council's reports."

"There is no need to fear regional or metropolitan planning. If local communities are provided with a vehicle for research and planning, they will be stronger individual governmental units and will

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Volpe Creates Impression That He May Not Run in '66

Governor Volpe startled political observers when he intimated recently that he may retire from public life at the end of his present term.

The Governor didn't go so far as to say that is his intention, but he created the definite impression that it is possible he may do so.

At the time he dropped the hint, Volpe was emphasizing that he is placing the public well-being above his own political future in advancing a tax program to meet the State's financial crisis, lower the tax rates in the cities and towns and make possible better public school education.

Volpe also remarked that he sought the Governorship last year because he felt the State government was headed in the wrong direction, adding that he was willing to place his neck on the chopping block if that was necessary in order to extricate the State from its financial dilemma.

Unusual Auto Wash Plan Is Opposed Here

A proposal unique to New England—a combined automobile fill-up-and-wash establishment—was the subject of a prolonged public hearing at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Atty. Alan S. Barkin of Newton Centre represented the First Federal Leasing Corporation, petitioner for the carwash establishment on Tower Rd., an unaccepted thoroughfare that leads off Needham St., Newton Highlands, to the Channel 7 television transmitter tower.

The project was unique in at least three respects, Barkin pointed out: 1—Cars for which gasoline is purchased will be washed by the most modern

Incinerator Start Seems Likely Soon

A June start on construction of the building to house the city's new incinerator is likely, it developed at a meeting held in the office of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

Those present included members of the mayor's Building advisory committee, Metcalf & Eddy consulting engineers, Willard S. Pratt, director of public works; Vincent D. Burns, building commissioner, and William E. Hopkins, chairman of the Public Buildings Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

Record-High Budget Points To Jump In Local Tax Rate

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs submitted a record-high city and school budget totalling $29,417,959 to the Board of Aldermen last Monday night.

This is $2,288,993 higher than the budget of last year. If all other factors which will figure in the 1965 tax rate were the same as last year, the budget increase would mean a $7 rise in the city's tax rate.

However, a number of the factors which will play a part in determining this year's tax rate are not yet known, and the Board of Aldermen undoubtedly will make some reductions in the budget presented by the Mayor.

But everything indicates that a substantial jump in the tax rate is inevitable.

How much the Aldermen will be able to trim from the municipal budget is uncertain since Mayor Gibbs already has shaved $1,252,148 from the requests of his department heads.

Neither the Mayor nor the School Committee for the operation of the city's public schools.

The overall city budget sent to the Board of Aldermen by the Mayor amounted to $17,013,161 as compared to $15,186,696 last year, an increase of $1,394,465. (This is exclusive of the budget for the operation of the public school system).

The school budget for this year is $12,404,798. That is $894,528 more than last year's figure of $11,510,270.

A new item in the budget this year is $6210 to finance the operation of the animal-control department which began functioning on Monday.

One of the few municipal agencies whose budget is smaller this year than in 1964 is the Election Commission which was allowed $71,533 as compared to $88,979 last year, a drop of $17,446. The reason for this is that there will be only one municipal election in Newton this year, while last year there was a November election, a September primary and an April Presidential Primary.

Following are the budget figures for some of the major city departments:

BUDGET—(See Page 5)

3 Dept. Heads Up For Raises In New Budget

Three municipal department heads would get salary increases which would raise their pay above that of the Mayor if the recommendations contained in Mayor Gibbs' budget are approved by the Board of Aldermen.

The Public Works Director, the Public Health Commissioner and the City Solicitor all would be boosted to a salary of $15,500 a year under the Mayor's proposals. The Mayor himself gets $15,000 annually, $500 less than the three department heads would receive.

Mayor Gibbs explained that he is endeavoring to recognize the worth of the department heads and is trying to get their salaries up near the wage standards of private industry.

New Library Opposition Raised

The Board of Aldermen voted Monday night to refer to a sub-committee a communication that urged a careful analysis of the Humphry-McNiff study of the Newton Free Library.

The communication, signed by Benjamin F. Shattuck, and written on behalf of a group of Newton citizens, was read to the Board Hopkins. It was as follows:

"On behalf of a group of Newton citizens who have recently completed a careful analysis of the Humphry-Mc-

Niff 'Study of the Newton Free Library,' I have been asked to communicate to you the following observations with the request that they be brought to the particular attention of that committee of the Honorable Board which is now deliberating the future development of the library system:

"1. — While the Humphry-McNiff study points out that the circulation of the whole library system has increased some 20 times since its founding in 1870 — as compared with only an eight-fold increase in population during that time — they fail to comment on the fact that library circulation has increased less than one percent in the past 10 years, when our popula-

State Tourney Berth Goal Of Hockey Tigers

Newton High School's hockey team can clinch a place in the post-season State Tournament this weekend.

The Tigers have two important games at the Boston Arena in a period of three days, one with a strong Waltham High team at 12:30 Saturday afternoon, the second with Cambridge Latin at 3 p.m. Monday afternoon.

They will be aiming for two victories.

Cambridge Latin shapes up as no match for Newton on the holiday afternoon, but Waltham could give the Tigers a tough fight on Saturday.

The Tigers edged closed to a State Tournament berth when they defeated a surprisingly stubborn Rindge Tech team 6-1 last Saturday. In its early stages the game was much more closely contested than the score would indicate.

College Of Sacred Heart Ready To Start New Dorm Construction

Newton College of the Sacred Heart will begin construction of a $750,000 split-level dormitory next week on the Centre Street campus.

The building — fifth residence hall to be erected at the women's college since 1955 — will be ready for occupancy by 100 students in September of this year.

Designed by Boston architects Maginnis and Walsh and Kennedy, the exterior of the new dormitory will be of contemporary design, to be executed in red brick, limestone, and glass. General contractor for the building will be Walsh Brothers Incorporated, of Cambridge.

The larger part of the L-shaped dormitory will be 132 feet long and 45 feet wide, and will extend north and south. The first floor in this wing will be occupied by a health center with a 15-bed infirmary, solarium, dispensary, and offices for the College's two physicians and four registered nurses. The health center will have its own entrance with no direct access to the dormitory's other living quarters.

This wing will also include 50 student rooms, apartments for the housemother and the faculty resident, a smoking lounge, and a kitchen, as well as a basement with laundry, linen, trunk, elevator machinery and other electrical — mechanical rooms.

The short wing of the residence hall will be a large, one-story, trapezoid-shaped reception room with two glass-paneled walls providing north and south exposures. The basement of this wing will serve as a recreation room for the residents.

The main entrance to the dormitory will face the Mill street gateway to the campus, and will connect the two wings. Directly to the south of this entrance there are two landscaped parking areas with a capacity of 105 cars.

The new hall will be adjacent to the College's $500,000 student union and faculty office building now under construction.

The cost of the dormitory will be met with private funds — from alumnae, parents, and other friends of the College.

Newton's other dormitories and years of completion are as follows: Stuart (1955), Cushing (1955), Duchesne (1957), and Hardey (1959). These buildings house the College's 550 resident students.

Aldermen Vote Bigelow Jr. High And Street Funds

A appropriation of $66,000 for architects' fees and preliminary plans for replacement of Bigelow Junior High School at its present site, was voted by the Board of Aldermen at the meeting in City Hall Monday night.

The money, requested by the buildings commissioner, will be taken from surplus.

Also appropriated was $15,403 plus $4,503 from surplus reserved for street construction for reconstruction of the north side of Commonwealth avenue from Rowe street to Lexington street, Auburndale. This is the so-called "cow-path" side of the avenue.

Although the Claims and Rules committee's denial of Lasell College's petition for erection of four dormitories was accepted by the Board, Harry H. Ham, Jr., the committee's chairman, said that the college could refile a revised petition at any time it desired.

It was voted to accept the Claims and Rules committee's recommendation for damages of $7000 to be paid by the city to the Newton Cemetery Corporation for the taking of land off Commonwealth avenue for erection of the building housing fluoridation equipment.

Also accepted was that committee's recommendation that the claim for damages by a city-owned truck that bumped a car at an exit ramp of the Central Artery in Boston, be settled with payment of $552. The original claim was for $937.50, Chairman Ham said.

It was voted to approve the Claims and Rules denial of a petition for an 85-parker nursing home at 7 Parker street, Newton Centre abutting the city's housing project for the elderly.

Tourney

The two teams were tied 1-1 early in the second period. But then the Newton skaters turned on the steam and took charge.

High scoring Dick Toomey performed the "hat trick" as he tallied three goals. Toomey also had an assist on another score.

Other Newton goals were scored by George Mechem, John Coyle and Dave Mullare. After this weekend, the Tigers will have only one GBI League game remaining. That will be with Medford High at 1 p.m. next Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 24.

Then, hopefully, it will be on to the State Tournament, with a chance of avenging the defeat suffered at the hands of league-leading Arlington High.

ALAN R. MacLEOD

West Newton Chrysler-Plym'th Open House

Allan R. MacLeod, who served for many years as an executive in the Chrysler-Plymouth national organization, last fall returned to Newton and established the new West Newton Chrysler-Plymouth agency at 1203 Washington street, West Newton.

The location was already well known as a Chrysler-Plymouth agency, but Mr. MacLeod refurbished the showroom, made many improvements and brought in many additional models of new Chryslers and Plymouths so that the buying public would have an opportunity to view all the cars and make their selections from a much wider range.

Mr. MacLeod and his sales staff are more than gratified with the enthusiastic response of Newton car buyers. "Apparently, they now realize that they can buy better locally. Of course we have cars to be proud of... the 1965 Chryslers are the most beautiful ever built and the Roarin' '65 Plymouths are going big guns. Our volume of new car sales has also given us a fine selection of used cars. We are automobile people and know what the public wants and we're dedicated to the proposition that our customers' satisfaction comes first," said MacLeod.

"Our service department is managed by factory-trained mechanics and I am pleased to announce that Jim Pacheco, long recognized in this area as an outstanding service manager, is now heading up the department," MacLeod proudly reported.

Washington's Birthday Open House Celebration is featuring many outstanding specials and Allan MacLeod and staff will be on hand to meet the public who are interested in knowing more about Chryslers Imperials and Plymouths.

"It's sort of like a homecoming," said MacLeod who lived for many years in Newton before assuming his duties in Detroit.

6-Year Capital Outlay Program Is Reported

Recommendations for annual expenditures of $2,600,000 for capital improvements over the next six years were made in a 41-page report submitted Monday night by Mayor Gibbs to the Board of Aldermen.

Annual bond issues of $1,600,000, plus $1,000,000 a year from revenue, would finance the projects, whose total cost will be $16,500,000.

Among the 50 projects, discussed in the report is one of $6,550,000 for Newton High School, which is to be deferred till after 1970; a golf course at Cold Spring Play-ground in 1968, a new $1,560,000 central library, swimming pools at both high schools, school additions, new fire department equipment and a department drill school, and numerous other improvements.

Among other future projects listed are a City Hall annex, a health center, two library branches, a new school in Newton Highlands and improvements to Newton Junior College.

Library

tion increased an estimated 12 percent.

"2. — Projected on a per capita basis, therefore, circulation actually fell during this latter period — from an average of 9.7 books per person in 1954 to an average of 8.6 in 1963.

"3. — In spite of these facts, the Humphry-McNiff study recommends a Main Library edifice nearly three times as large as the present Main Library at a cost of over $1,500,000, of which only 42.3 percent will be for book storage.

"4. — Of the total library circulation of 810,794 books in 1963, over 65 percent came from the branch library system.

"5. — In spite of this fact, the Humphry-McNiff study recommends the abandonment of the present 10 branches — several of which were built with funds contributed by public subscription — in favor of one branch in the north and one in the south part of the city — each to be one-half the size of the present Newtonville branch.

"6. — At the present time the city has under consideration a Community Renewal Program which recommends a considerably higher land usage in the north section of the city — a fact which could well shift the population growth pattern back to that area over the next decade.

"7. — Yet the Humphry-McNiff study categorically recommends that the Main Library (of a three-part system) be moved to the present so-called geographical center of the city!

"In view of the foregoing, it is the feeling of our group that every recommendation of the Humphry-McNiff study should be carefully analyzed and weighed for validity before any major changes affecting the library system to the citizens are adopted."

Civic Association Plans Open Meeting On Feb. 26

Believing that citizen participation in civic matters is them with projects to be undertaken by the City Government, the Newton Civic Association is sponsoring an open meeting to be held at The Hunnewell Club, Eldredge St., Newton on Friday evening, Feb. 26, at 8:00 p.m.

At this meeting the invited guest, James Miller of the Newton Planning Board will present the Chamber of Commerce moving picture which portrays the Community Renewal Program which has been planned for the various sections of Newton. Following the presentation a Question and Answer period will be held.

Various members of the city government have been invited to attend, as well as members of other organizations interested in matters pertaining to the improvement of the physical image of the Garden City.

With the plan being in its formative stages it is felt that many home owners may have helpful suggestions to offer and it is hoped that this meeting will be attended by a large number of people. Once the plan is finalized it will be too late to effect changes.

Not Legends, But Men

It is presumed that Americans will pause on Monday the 22nd to ponder the greatness of the man whose birthday is honored on that day, George Washington, first President of the United States.

February gave us two distinctive patterns of human greatness.

Washington, the wealthy, graceful aristocrat, who placed his fortune and very life on the block as he led his Colonial Armies against the power of the mighty mother-land, England.

Lincoln, ungainly, the poor boy from the lonely pioneer log cabin who rose to occupy the eminence first held by Washington. Lincoln the assassinated leader, who lived magnificently to hold together the great nation founded by Washington but rent by the worst of all civil wars.

The decades have smoothed away the mortality of these two giants, now legends. But men they were, and human with human needs and desires, strengths and weaknesses.

They rose to almost godlike heights in times of great national need, for which we are eternally grateful. But we must look beyond the cold austerity of their statutes and memorials to the men who lived as George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. May this nation be ever so blessed with such men when danger lurks and disaster threatens.

MONTH OF DECISION

A far-reaching decision will be made this month by the people of Massachusetts, and of Newton.

They will chose the amount of protection they wish against heart disease, our Number One Killer.

In every city and town in our Commonwealth, our neighbors will seek our support for the Heart Fund, the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations' agency for financing its lifesaving programs of research, education and community services.

These programs have proven successful in the most basic terms, those of human life and health. One's doorstep contribution to the Heart Fund is transformed into the inspired research that makes possible the hyperbaric chamber, the cardioverter, which restores failing hearts to strong and normal rhythms, the advances in the treatment of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease which have meant so much to our children.

It makes possible as well less spectacular advances, all of which add something to the sum of the knowledge and techniques which constitute our doctors' arsenal against cardiovascular disease.

And it makes possible programs which bring this knowledge and these techniques out of the laboratory and the great teaching hospital into the offices of our family physicians, our front line against disease.

Yes, the Heart Fund has saved lives—too many to count—and to an impressive extent with research sponsored and executed within our borders. Fathers, mothers, young children, for heart disease is no respecter of age, are alive and well today because of work made possible by Heart Funds within the past few years.

Viewing the nature of our lives realistically, the need for continued and increased Heart Fund services is apparent. Our existence is becoming steadily more sedentary; the old myth that heart disease takes away only the aged has long been shattered as younger and younger people, mostly men, succumb in the prime of their lives.

In the light of these facts, it makes good sense, in terms of self-interest to support the Heart Fund more than just adequately. Many fine projects which might have value for any of us have never gotten off the ground simply because there isn't enough money to finance them.

The Heart Fund is our chance, as enlightened citizens, to move to protect ourselves against our greatest health enemy, and in doing so to help all mankind everywhere.

Let us make the most of our opportunity. Support the efforts of our Newton volunteers through the month and on Heart Sunday, February 28th.

Central Library Issue

Editor
Newton Graphic
Before the Coordinating Committee for the Newton Free Library gets its fingers any further into Newton taxpayers' pockets, we think it should be said loudly and clearly that this proposed new central library building will cost between one and one-half million to two million dollars.

One of the most illogical reasons put forth for raising the tax rate of home owners to meet this expense is that a centrally located library building will make books more readily available to the public.

Anyone desiring a library book in Newton can walk to his local branch library and if the book is not there, fill out a post card to obtain it. This suggested site for the new library building at the old Mason School in Newton Centre will be much farther away from most Newton residents than their own local branch libraries. Even these local libraries are empty of users most of the time.

Let's find some way to create new tax revenue for Newton before we spend it needlessly.

Tribute To James Lowell

EDITOR OF THE GRAPHIC:
In the passing of James Lowell our community has lost one of its most distinguished and dedicated citizens.

Modest and steadfast in his quiet and gentle devotion to the good of his fellow man, he was an exemplar of the kind of stewardship that has ennobled the life of our city and state.

The many who have felt his beneficent influence mourn his passing and revere his memory.

Political Highlights

It would be silly to jump to the conclusion that Volpe at this stage of his term has decided he will not stand for reelection or that he might not change his mind a year from now if he were thinking in that vein.

One reason Volpe fought for the Governorship and all its headaches last year is that he is a proud man and that he suffered a heavy blow to his pride when he was nosed out by Endicott Peabody in the 1962 election.

But Volpe undoubtedly was also motivated by a desire to clean up the financial mess on Beacon Hill and to protect the prosperity of the Commonwealth by reducing the real estate tax rates in the local communities so they will be in a better position to attract business and industry and to preserve the jobs they now have.

Volpe is essentially a businessman rather than a politician although he has been successful in both business and politics.

If he finds that he is ramming his head into a stone wall when he attempts to do what he feels must be done for the public good, Volpe may well decide next year that he has had his fill of politics.

Most of the criticism directed at Volpe's tax program is unwarranted.

Part of it is politically motivated. Part of it is sincere but is based on a lack of understanding of the problems confronting Volpe and what he is trying to do.

It is true that the proposed increase in State income taxes would hit persons in the upper income brackets a fairly resonating blow.

Arguments that the elimination of the federal income tax deduction from the State return would mean that people would be paying taxes on money they don't get are valid.

It should be understood, however, that Volpe is proposing to raise the State income taxes in order to pay bills he inherited from the Peabody administration and to meet a financial problem which ex-Governor Peabody evaded by employing the gimmick of accelerated tax collections.

If Peabody instead of Volpe were Governor, he also would be obliged to raise the State income taxes in order to get the money to cover the expenses he incurred.

Democratic leaders realize this. That's why they are saying little about the income tax proposal and are acknowledging that an increase in State income taxes is inevitable.

The income tax bill may not be approved by the Legislature in precisely the form submitted by Volpe. But a hike of about $50 million in the State income taxes will be voted. If it isn't the State government would be bankrupt and unable to pay its bills.

Those are the cold, hard facts, unpleasant though they may be.

Volpe's main objective in advocating a sales tax is to try to assure that there will be jobs for the people of Massachusetts.

Why the labor spokesmen can't or won't see this is a mystery. The assumption is that they just close their eyes to the situation and don't want to see it.

One opponent to the sales tax declared the other day that if ex-Governor Furcolo had been successful in his 1957 fight for the enactment of a sales tax, the people of Massachusetts by now would have paid about a billion dollars into the State government in sales taxes.

That's undoubtedly true. But it's only part of the story. Property-owners would have paid a billion dollars less in real estate taxes. A lot of industrial and business firms which have moved out of Massachusetts in the last eight years would still be here, and we might not have lost 40,000 jobs. Which is preferable?

A representative of a national industrial concern was in the Greater Boston area last week surveying a possible location for a branch plant for his company.

After considering the high real estate tax rate, the workmen's compensation rate, which is the highest of any industrial would lower our real estate tax rates and place us in a better competitive position. It would mean paying pennies in taxes. If we don't do that, we'll eventually be paying dollars instead in a State with a declining prosperity. That's really the choice.

South Wins As NHS Loses In A Tight Match

Saturday, at Northeastern's Cabot Cage, Newton South High's track team handed a rout to winless Needham. The score, South 67½, Needham 18½. And in doing it, South finished its second straight unbeaten season.

It was the Lions' seventh straight victory this year, and 14th when last season's record is counted.

The same day, Newton High School's track team was less fortunate, losing a heart-breaker to Weymouth, 47½ to 38½.

NHS dropped to third place with the loss, its second in a row.

Individual Newton winners were Chris David (1000), Paul Burlingame, (shot put), and George Grabau (dash). In the shot put, Burlingame beat the Class A state champion with a 50-ft. 10-in. heave.

Richard S. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jacobs, 33 Coolidge Rd., Newton Centre, has been named to the Dean's List at Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y.

Public Invited To Holiday Party At Gene Brown Motors

You're invited to a party on Washington's Birthday at Gene Brown Motors, Inc., 714 Beacon street, Newton. There'll be plenty of refreshments served up by the staff of Gene Brown. Ray Ciccolo, president, said there will be special treats for the children.

While at Gene Brown you will be able to see the complete line of Volvo's, those Swedish Compacts noted for their ruggedness and dependability. There's the 122S two and four door models, and station wagon, the snappy 544 sedan and P1800 Sports Coupe. Gene Brown Motors, as reported by John Eger, General Sales manager, is the largest Volvo dealer in New England and headquarters for purchasing your P1800 Sports Coupe. Volvo sales are up 25 per cent over last year. The sales staff of Harvey Conn, Peter Mueller and Robert Perry is backed up by one of the largest and most modern service department in the region. The parts department always has a full stock so there's no waiting and returning to get the job done.

Rambler sales at Gene Brown are 38 per cent ahead of last year and that's because Gene Brown Motors is the fastest growing and most aggressive Rambler dealer in the suburban Boston market. "We have a Rambler to fit every need and pocket book, and we back it with top quality service by mechanics that are factory trained and like a bit more pride in their work than the average. We know that every car that leaves our shop has been road tested and carefully checked for all safety features... that's how we like to satisfy our customers," says Ray Ciccolo. Ambassador sales are up 18 per cent this year.

John Eger cordially invites you to their gala Birthday party on February 22... there'll be fun and refreshments for all.

Plan

(Continued from Page 1) automatic equipment for 50 cents. If there is no gas sale, the cost of the wash will be $1.50.

2—It would be the only car wash in New England, if not the entire country, that can accommodate all the cars awaiting service on its own premises without making it necessary for a line of vehicles to form on a public way.

3—The serviced cars, of which some 400 could be washed and/or fueled on any given day, would emerge from Tower Rd. into Needham St. at the rate of one every five minutes and without causing any traffic congestion, it was stated.

The property is owned by John Spinelli, Atty. Barkin said, and Spinelli would be responsible for construction of the car-wash building.

There was opposition in the form of a letter from two abutters, Hunnewell, Inc., and New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, and the presence of L. S. Nelson, manager of Wilson Sporting Goods Company, who appeared as a representative of 17 abutters, among them Itak Corporation, Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, Raytheon and John Sexton & Company.

The opposition, as expressed by Mr. Nelson, was on three grounds:

1—Traffic congestion on Newton's "Miracle Mile" would be aggravated. 2—The car-wash building would not harmonize with the other business and industrial structures lining Needham St., buildings on which millions of dollars have been invested. 3—The 14,000 gallons of gasoline proposed to be stored underground on the premises would constitute a safety hazard.

In short, Nelson asserted it was felt that the area was not appropriate for establishment of a car wash.

A representative of the fire department had previously stated that the department had no objection to the storage of gas, and that it would not be dangerous.

Opposition also developed to a petition for storage of 300,000 gallons of fuel oil and 2000 gallons of gasoline off Armory St., West Newton.

The petitioner was Thomas H. Terrio, owner of the tract in which the oil and gas were proposed to be stored. Atty. William E. Halliday of West Newton, explained that such petitions have to be made in the name of the land owner, but that actually, the Bigelow Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Dolan Oil Company of Concord St., Newton Lower Falls, proposed to transfer its business to the Armory St. site.

"There'll be plenty of opposition," Halliday declared, "all of it whipped up by a Waltham resident who is a dealer in competition with Bigelow."

It was proposed to store 300,000 gallons of fuel oil, he explained, so that in event of a blizzard like that of 1940, enough oil would be on hand to serve the community for three days in which the roads might be blocked, preventing delivery of supplies of oil from distant points.

A representative of the Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau, testified that the bureau had no objection to the proposed storage.

James White of 7 Gerard Ct., West Newton, owner of a house in Armory St., voiced opposition, saying there would be a fire hazard, danger to children from frequent passage of tank trucks, and that his Armory St. house would be made more difficult to rent.

James S. Bagley of the Bagley Oil Company in Waltham said that it would be impossible to operate a business of the proposed size on the Armory St. site.

In a show of hands, one resident of the area indicated approval of the petition, and eight indicated opposition.

There was no opposition to a petition of West Newton Auto Body Company for increased underground gasoline storage at 1180 Washington St., West Newton.

Atty. William F. Noble told the Board that Carl Jackson, who was unable to be present because of illness, needed the added storage in order to maintain his fleet of school buses for which he has a city contract. The Fire Department had no objections.

Elizabeth Lytle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lytle, 18 Brewster road, Newton Highlands, was initiated into Alpha Delta Pi sorority at Ohio Wesleyan University.

Local Women Named By CJP

Two Newton women have been named to head key posts in the 1965 appeal of Combined Jewish Philanthropies.

Mrs. Goldman, a board member of the women's division of CJP, will serve her second consecutive year as co-chairman.

The Aldermanic Finance Committee will hold a series of meetings and conferences on the Mayor's budget before reporting it back to the full board for action.

Says:

Although it is often said that everyone loves a bargain, many people are reticent to purchase a so-called bargain for fear of acquiring shoddy, sub-standard merchandise.

There are several ways to define a bargain: one is "something that is procured at a low price"; another is "an advantageous purchase." I prefer the latter definition, for in my way of thinking, an advantageous purchase is always a bargain, regardless of price.

My yearly opportunity to offer you real bargains has now arrived with the advent of our Moonraker Annual Sale. You can save up to $100.00 on many beautiful models which were honest top-values at their regular prices.

Come to our OPEN HOUSE on Washington's Birthday, February 22nd, from 1-3 P.M. and you will be impressed by the bargains we have, particularly on Color TV and Stereo Hi-Fi. Refreshments will be served and you may look about in unhampered leisure.

Members And Guests Enjoy Com'nity Club Hobby Show

The Hobby Show held at a recent meeting of the Newton Community Club was an attractive extra feature of the afternoon. Arranged in the Small Hall of Grace Church Parish House, the displays of collections and handiwork elicited exclamations of admiration and pleasure from club members and guests.

Fine needlework included crewel work by Miss Margaret S. Ball; hooked rugs by Mrs. Ray A. Susden and Mrs. Carl P. Peterson; knit dresses and sweaters by Mrs. Eusden and Mrs. Warner Eustis; and quilts in old-fashioned patterns by Mrs. Frederick S. Bacon. Other types of handwork were represented by the hand-blocked linens and charcoal sketches of Mrs. Mason H. Stone; artificial flowers made by Mrs. Warren B. Manhard; paintings by Mrs. Edward J. Sawyer; and pottery by Miss Barbara Kohler, daughter of Mrs. Julius W. A. Kohler. A colorful tray painted by Mrs. Sterling N. Loveland was also shown.

Interesting collections were those of fans, owned by Mrs. Mason H. Stone; silver snuff and perfume boxes, owned by Mrs. Sawyer; china frogs of all sizes belonging to Mrs.

Kendal A. Woodrough; rocks collected by Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson; and stamps, owned by Mrs. Francis J. Flagg. Also, porcelain figurines, belonging to Mrs. Carlton L. Shaw; antique spectacle cases, belonging to Mrs. F. Crockett Brown; pitchers of all sizes, collected by Mrs. Herbert B. Dwight; South Sea Island Dolls, owned by Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity; buttons of every conceivable kind arranged by Mrs. F. Crockett Brown; and shawls belonging to Mrs. Sawyer. Also, cups and saucers, owned by Mrs. Looft Gayzagian; and little shoes made of glass and porcelain belonging to Mrs. Henry C. Jones, Jr.

Especially quaint was the set of doll bedroom furniture made for a little girl in the 1870's in Portland, Me., owned by Mrs. Kohler.

Mrs. Edward O. Loring had on display two leather fire buckets dating back at least 150 years. There were also antique dishes belonging to Mrs. Carl P. Peterson.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Backman had contributed two white-and-silver shawls from India. These had once belonged to an Indian princess. With these was a small silver copy of a Norwegian galleon brought to this country 40 years ago.

Mrs. Kohler, chairman of the American Home Committee, was in charge of the show, assisted by Mrs. Sawyer.

In addition to the show, club members and guests enjoyed a luncheon served by the program committee. Mrs. Loveland, acting chairman. After the short business session, which followed the luncheon, Mr. Louis Thackeray, graphologist, spoke on the ways in which handwriting reveals character traits, and briefly analyzed the handwriting of many in the audience.

Valentine Open House At Jackson Homestead

Visitors at the Jackson Homestead Open House, 527 Washington St., Newton, on Sunday, February 21, from 3 to 5 o'clock will be treated to an unusual display of old Valentines, accented by two "Tussie Mussie" herb nosegays (one with a red rose in the center for ardent love and one with a yellow rose for a cooling off) and other romantic symbols.

By popular request the exhibit of children's clothes, toys, books and games has been held over in the nursery exhibit room. Mrs. Orin E. Skinner and Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes have assembled an outstanding collection of dresses, bonnets, suits and other accessories for babies and children up to four years of age, several of them loaned by Mr. Frederick S. Bacon, a descendant of Hannah Woodward Jackson.

Amazingly real are the baby in the cradle, Mother standing by the fireplace holding her young daughter's hand, and a child in a white dress and pantalettes looking out the back window. On the table are the "makings" of Valentines, complete with flour paste.

The highlight of the afternoon will be a concert of children's songs and lullabies played on the Harmonium by Miss Deborah Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Fisher of West Newton, who will be dressed in an old-fashioned costume.

Members of the Waban Woman's Club who will be Hostesses are Mrs. James H. Mitchell, president; Mrs. John E. Almon, Mrs. Damon Carter, Mrs. Edmund Fanning, Mrs. Robert W. Ficken, Mrs. Douglas D. Furbush, Mrs. Edwin Hawkridge, Mrs. J. Seymour McLean and Mrs. R. L. McWilliams. Two Camp Fire girls in costume will also greet the visitors.

Old fashioned flower arrangements in the various rooms will be created by Newtonville Garden Club members Mrs. Charles W. Peterson, chairman; Mrs. James A. Brickett, Mrs. George W. Hinman, Mrs. Walter P. Phillips and Mrs. C. Edgar Thyng.

IN FOCUS

By GEORGE C. GREEN

No, a filter does not add color to your film! It's job is to filter (remove as much as possible) certain light. Each type of filter is made to do this so that the light entering through the camera lens will leave its effect upon the film inside the camera.

A polarizing filter performs many functions. In distant scenes it absorbs ultraviolet rays. By rotating it on its axis it can darken a scene in deepening densities.

Hold a polarizer to your eye and survey a scene. Rotate it and you will be surprised at what happens to the objects in the scene. Why? Because the polarizer removes surface reflections and lets you see the true color. It is ideal for snow, water and landscapes. Whenever possible use it with a lens hood (sunshade) and allow two full stops (instead of 1/16 make it 1/8, etc.).

The polarizing filter can also be used with black and white film except, instead of affecting color rendition it will give deeper contrasts and emphasis in the grey (black and white) scale.

While I'm on filters and black and white films you might be interested in the fact that you can have fun with your camera by using different ones such as yellow, orange, green or red in various densities from 1 through 3. You must remember, however, that black and white will be more costly because you must have pictures made from the film in order to actually see the final results.

Are you using a Polaroid camera with color film? If the camera is the latest one you can use an ultraviolet filter which will eliminate some of the "bluishness" in the color print. The older camera

Maimonides To Exhibit Israel Art On Weekend

Robert J. Sherer of 7 Burr road, Newton Centre, a general chairman of the coming Maimonides School Art Festival, announces that one of the most comprehensive exhibitions of contemporary Israeli art to be shown in the Greater Boston area, will be seen on the Brookline campus of the school Saturday through Monday, Feb. 20-22.

Sponsored by the Friends of Maimonides School, the exhibit will comprise 120 oil paintings, watercolors, drawings and woodcuts representing 40 of Israel's leading artists.

A special feature of the showing will be a collection of 30 authentic handblown glass reproductions of ancient Israeli artifacts. Each piece is a meticulous duplication in every detail of objects of art uncovered in archaeological explorations in Israel. These works, along with the rest of the collection, will be available for purchase at the showing.

The collection, sent directly to Maimonides School from the Saffra Art Gallery in Jerusalem, represents all schools of expression from abstraction to realism. The canvases express Orient and Occident, ancient and modern influences upon artists who interpret contemporary Israeli life from a broad spectrum of backgrounds.

A sponsors and patrons preview showing and champagne hour will be held Saturday evening, Feb. 20, from 8:30 to 12 o'clock. The exhibit will be open to the public on Sunday and Monday, Feb. 21-22 from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m. Committee members include Dr. Felix Cohen and Aaron S. Bell, both of Newton.

Scotfield Resolution

Adopted by the Board of Aldermen Monday night was a resolution of regret over the passing of Frank P. Scotfield, former Alderman.

Alderman William E. Hopkins presented the resolution, and Alderman John P. McCarthy seconded it. A copy will be sent to the family.

Mr. Scotfield was on the Board for four years in the early 40's.

Woman's Club Hobby Class In W. Newton

The hobby class of the West Newton Woman's Club will meet Thursday afternoon, Feb. 25, at 12:30 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. John Leonard, 346 Austin street, West Newton. Dessert will be served.

There will be a fashion show following the business session led by Mrs. John Fitzgerald.

Volunteer Army Is Ready Gym For Hospital Fund Dinner

A small army of volunteers from Newton and Wellesley is finalizing plans to transform Newton High School's gymnasium into a huge dining room to accommodate 1000 guests at the community dinner next Wednesday, Feb. 24, according to Bernard D. Grossman, general chairman of the building fund campaign for $3.5 million to expand and modernize Newton-Wellesley Hospital. "The list of acceptances from both guests and those who have been invited to speak is beginning to look like a Greater Boston Who's Who," commented Mr. Grossman.

The Most Reverend Eric F. MacKenzie, Senior Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Boston, will open the dinner with an invocation, followed by Dr. Abram Sachar, president of Brandeis University, who, as a resident of Newton, will speak on the importance of the Newton-Wellesley area of keeping its hospital large enough to meet not only the needs of the growing population but designed to incorporate the most advanced equipment and facilities.

Among those on the dais who will speak will be Robert C. Casselman, Vice President of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, reporting as chairman of the Advanced Gifts Committee, on organizational progress; George L. White, chairman of the Board of Governors; William S. Brines, director of the hospital; Dr. Charles A. Haney, of Haney Associates, Inc., the fund raising firm directing the campaign; Dr. Arthur D. Baldwin, chairman of the Medical Staff Executive Committee; Mrs. Edward P. Garland, president of the Junior Aid Association; Mrs. Arthur Anderson, Jr., and Mrs. Worthing L. West, chairmen, respectively, of the Wellesley Women's and the Newton Women's sections of the campaign.

The key speaker, Dr. Morris Fishbein, will come fresh to the dais from a day-long series of interviews with the hospital's doctors and an inspection tour of the hospital itself. Long one of the nation's top spokesmen for improved medical standards, Dr. Fishbein will relate the national need for community hospital planning to the local need of these who live and work in Newton-Wellesley Hospital's service area.

A 15-girl chorus from Wellesley College, the "Wellesley Widows," will add a musical interlude to the dinner.

South High In Loss To Champs

Undefeated Lynnfield handed Newton South's icemen an 8 to 0 defeat last Saturday, but the loss couldn't be classed as a disgrace by any means.

The Lynnfield Six, now 8-0 for the season, hasn't been beaten in two years of competition.

The opposing goalie had only seven South shots to parry, and he handled them nicely.

Barbershoppers Set Plans For Programs

The Newton-Wellesley Chapter of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.) will hold their annual "Parade of Quartets," at the Wellesley Junior High School on Kingsbury St., Saturday, April 24th, at 8:15 p.m. sharp.

The show will feature international championship contenders: "The Nighthawks" from Ontario, Canada; "The Cross Countrymen" from Boston; "The Boston Criers," an outstanding female barbershop quartet; "The Adventurers" of Nashua, N.H., with novelty twists in barbershop singing; plus, "The Newton-Wellesley Barbershop Chorus" and their own quartet, "The Calorie Counts."

The officers of the Newton-Wellesley Chapter for 1965 are: President, Richard Gallivan; Vice President for Programs, Joseph Sheehan; Vice President for Administration and Membership, James Lytle; Treasurer, John Mullen; Secretary, Sam Segal.

International barbershoppers will hold their convention this year in Boston, June 22-26, at the new Prudential Center auditorium. National barbershoppers support Logopedics, an organization dedicated to those unable to speak. The slogan is: "We Sing — So They Can Speak."

Anyone interested in having fun singing the old songs, either in a chorus or a quartet, is invited to come to the Sacred Heart School, Centre St., Newton Centre, any Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

For further information, call Jim Lytle, CE 5-2810 or CE 5-4828, or Joe Sheehan, DE 2-7103.

Last year's performance by this 148-member group was widely acclaimed. This year, the Society hopes to achieve greater brilliance in a work which Wagner called "the most stupendous miracle in all music."

Tickets may be had at Symphony Hall box office.

Newton YMCA Golf Classes Start Today

John Oteri, golf pro at Blue Hills Golf Club, and Jay Woodworth, pro at Furnace Brook Golf Club will again be running the golf classes at the Newton Y.M.C.A. this season.

The starting date will be today Thursday, February 18 and there will be a choice of five classes, mornings at 10:00 and 11:00 and evenings at 7:00, 8:00 and 9:00 o'clock.

These unique classes, conducted jointly by the two pros and limited to 16 students per class, offer individual attention for both men and women taking the instruction.

All equipment is supplied in the way of mats, balls and clubs but each person should have their own rubber soled shoes, however if attenders have their own set of clubs and wish to use them, this may be done.

By starting at this time, the course will be over in time for you to start the golf season in April in high style.

Among the topics covered are the Kent Rhythm Swing which puts you at ease while still having the proper control when driving, plus short shots (chip, pitch, sand) and putting.

For further information, call the Newton Y.M.C.A., Adult Division office, BI 4-6050 between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. Monday through Friday.

"Mind" Subject Of Scientists

The Bible Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches this Sunday will feature the story of Moses leading the children of Israel into the promised land, showing how his reliance on God resulted in what are considered miracles. This is amplified in a citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 200): "Moses advanced a nation to the worship of God in Spirit instead of matter, and illustrated the grand human capacities of being bestowed by immortal Mind." The subject for the day is "Mind," and the Golden Text is from Matthew (22:37): "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind."

Dinner

Waban Church Features Yale Russian Chorus

The Yale Russian Chorus will sing at the 10:30 a.m. service at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban Square on Sunday February 21st.

The "Te Deum Laudamus" as arranged by Bortniansky, court composer to Catherine the Great, and a 16th century setting of the 1st Psalm by the monks of the Kievo-Pechersky Monastery will be sung in Russian, The Rev. William E. Foley announced. The Chorus will also present

Mozart's "Ave Verum" in German, which it sang in Berlin as a memorial for the East German student, Peter Fechner, who was killed while attempting to escape to the West over the Berlin Wall in 1962.

The Chorus was founded in 1954, as an outgrowth of the Russian Language Club at Yale University. Mr. Foley, Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, explained.

In 1962 during a two-month concert tour of Western Europe, the Chorus won First Prize in the 2nd International Choral Competition at Lisle, France. It was during this tour, while they were appearing in Berlin, that the young East German student, Peter Fechner, was shot while escaping over the Wall. He died within sight of U.S. soldiers.

A memorial service, at the request of the Mayor, was presented by the Chorus in the bombed-out and unrestored Kaiser Wilhelm Gedächtnis Kirche. The Chorus sang not only Russian liturgical music, but also the "Ave Verum" by Mozart in German.

The Chorus comprises over 40 active members, ranging from Deans and faculty members in many colleges and universities to the classic Yale freshman. Yet the unity of the group is maintained not only by music, but also by a common concern and belief that perhaps through song gaps between men may be bridged.

Country Players Give Boston Cardiac Party

Little heart patients who would not have survived a decade ago romped, ate ice cream and enjoyed a play Saturday afternoon at the YMCA Auditorium in Boston.

And they heard Dr. William Bernhard, assistant chief of surgery at Children's Hospital Medical Center, tell them that behind their lifesaving surgery lay years of patient and productive heart research.

He added that the Heart Fund had been a strong source of support for the history-making progress achieved at Children's Hospital for more than ten years.

The youngsters saw the production, "The Sleeping Princess," presented by The Country Players of Newton. Speakers were introduced by Ira Gerler of Newton.

The party was staged by Women's Aid for Heart Research, an auxiliary of the Greater Boston Chapter of Massachusetts Heart Association.

Co-chairmen of the event were Mrs. Alma Shapiro and Mrs. Rose Widett of Newton. The committee included Mrs. Doris Locke, Mrs. Doris Levy, Mrs. Hortense Roberts, Mrs. Elaine Shaer, Mrs. Lenore Buchbinder, Mrs. Phyllis Kruger, Mrs. Doris Cohen, Mrs. Annette Sawyer, Mrs. Charlotte Freedman, Mrs. Bertha Richmond, Mrs. Lois Foster, Mrs. Barbara Levy, all of Newton; Mrs. Doris Tanner and Mrs. Edith Markson of Brookline, and Mrs. Harriet Corkin of Wellesley. President of WAHR is Mrs. Doris Yaffee of Newton; vice president is Mrs. Leona Wexler of Newton.

Policewomen Enjoy Social, Hold Meeting

The Newton Policewomen held their meeting "A Social" recently at the home of Mrs. Jesse Jepsen, 297 Cherry Street, West Newton. A short business meeting preceded the social.

The January meeting of the group was held at the police station. Mrs. Angeline Henes, president, conducted the business meeting when a report on the fund raising plans was made. Mrs. Henes, reported on the visits to the nursing homes at Christmas time made by the women and Thank You notes were read from the Elliot Manor Nursing Home and the Elizabeth Manor Nursing Home.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Dowling and Mrs. Smith of Beauty Counseling. An enlightening evening was enjoyed by all, and the model for the demonstration was Mrs. Dorothy Cavetti. Mrs. Peg Hart and Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly and their committee provided refreshments.

The National Association for Mental Health reports that serious mental disturbances require hospital care for nearly one million persons in this country. Another five million, it is estimated, are afflicted seriously enough to impair their productivity and happiness. Yet fewer than one third of the needed psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers and nurses are available to meet current demands.

No Place Like Holmes To Buy A Car

Car buyers know they are at the right place when they visit Holmes Motors, Inc., 677 Washington street, Newtonville. Hundreds of buyers will go so far as to say, "There's no place like Holmes when it comes to buying a car."

They know why, too. In addition to spacious and modern facilities, Holmes Motors, Inc., has a highly trained staff in both service and sales. The buyers get personal attention and helpful guidance.

Ed Holmes, president stated: "The customer deserves the fullest measure of personal attention and service. He needs and wants information, guidance and assurance. We have 10 years of experience in providing this kind of assistance and attention to the buyer."

Bob Mabie, general manager, adds another reason: "If you are selling the best product around and you're selling it at the right price, you don't have to worry about customers."

Fred Finn, sales manager, said: "The customer arriving at Holmes Motors knows he is in good company as our fine staff extends him every courtesy and helpful assistance."

Holmes Motors will hold an Open House on Washington's Birthday. Greeting visitors along with Ed Holmes, Bob Mabie and Fred Finn will be Bud Miller, Pete Wallace, Ken Pauley and Nick DeNapoli of the sales staff.

Recodification Of Ordinances Is Approved

The Board of Aldermen gave approval Monday night to the first recodification of the city ordinances since 1952.

To be known as the Revised Ordinances of 1965, the recodification will be effective March 1.

It was a long and difficult task, City Solicitor Matt B. Jones reported, especially because of the great number of new traffic regulations adopted in the last 13 years.

Zoning ordinance changes include new rules concerning notices to abutters, Jones said.

Another result—the Aldermen's right to permit conversion of a single family house into multiple units was revoked. That can now be granted only by the Zoning Board of Appeals as hardship variances.

Here Is Timely IRS Information On Tax Returns

The following timely information on tax returns is offered by the Internal Revenue Service:

"When you send a check to the Internal Revenue Service, be sure to indicate what it is for. Considerable confusion results unless the office knows immediately to what account the payment should be credited."

"Do you always owe more taxes when your return is filed? One solution is to have additional taxes withheld by employers. An agreement may be entered into with employers to deduct an additional $4 or $5 each pay period, or a new exemption certificate Form W-4 may be filed with the employer to reduce the number of exemptions claimed."

"If you are an employer who is liable for tax withheld and social security taxes in excess of $100 for the month of January, the taxes must be deposited by Feb. 15. Additional information is available in Circular E, Employer's Tax Guide, that can be had from the IRS office."

When success turns a man's head, he is facing failure.

Direct Mail Day is sponsored by the Mail Advertising Club of New England as a special day-long event to bring up-to-date reports and information on the two-billion-dollar direct mail industry to Boston.

Many of the country's best known experts in direct mail will share their knowledge in panel discussions on a variety of subjects of interest to advertising agencies, manufacturers, retailers and distributors.

The panels will deal with such areas of activity as the use of the mails to sell products and services, consumer direct mail advertising, industrial direct mail, fund raising by mail, postal services and regulations, the special design and copy problems of direct mail, and techniques of printing for direct mail.

Mr. Gilvar, who is sales promotion manager of the Boston Envelope Company, in Dedham, is president of the Mail Advertising Club of New England.

Surgery Changed Her Life

Heart Fund Poster Girl Typical Teen

Bright-eyed seventeen-year-old Kathleen Tudor, of Newton, the 1965 Heart Fund Poster Girl, is what might be called, in the finest sense of the words, a "typical teen-ager."

Vivacious, charming and intelligent, she could well represent the young people of Newton.

When she talks with animation of her studies and hobbies one almost forgets that at the age of twelve she underwent open-heart surgery that changed her from a near-invalid to a girl to whom all scholastic and athletic doors are open.

Kathleen, who has been chosen by the Newton Committee to represent the hundreds who have been aided by the research made possible through Heart Fund dollars, is a junior at Newton South High School.

There she is an honor student—all A's and B's—and an eager participant in class activities. When asked what she was allowed to do in the area of sports, her quick reply was "Anything" as she went on to speak with enthusiasm of field hockey, basketball, baseball, and archery.

20 Local Students Win Scholarships

There were 20 Newtonites among the 1530 undergraduate students for the 1964-65 academic year whose names were announced by Governor John A. Volpe as recipients of scholarships under the program of the State Board of Educational Assistance, which is now in its seventh year.

The Governor stated that there had been 3600 applications for the scholarships, and said that preparations are under way for the program's continuance.

Selections were made by the state board. Those eligible had to be deserving, academically worthy, and living at a regional accredited institution.

Following are the Newton students who were selected: From Auburndale — Eileen M. Dougherty, 31 Newell Rd.,

From Waban — Hope DeRogatis, 242 Waban Ave., attending College of Wooster, Ohio.

From Chestnut Hill — Lee J. Berkowitz, 140 Vine St., attending Clark University.

From Newton — Theresa M. DeLuca, 30 Hawthorne St., attending Boston State College; Leslie C. Feeley, 10 Emerson St., Framingham State College; Irvin M. Firger, 113 Brackett Rd., Boston State College; Marilyn E. Firger, 113 Brackett Rd., Boston State College; James V. Mogan, 607 Washington St., College of the Holy Cross.

School Board Ponders Trek Of 3 Teachers

A proposal that two or three top Newton School teachers be sent to Bogota, Colombia, for a two-year period, was tentatively and informally approved at a meeting of the School Committee on Monday night.

Superintendent of Schools Charles E. Brown was instructed to explore the matter further and to report back to the School Committee at a later date.

The only outright opposition came from Chairman Haskell C. Freedman who said he was unconvinced as to the merit of the idea and felt that the teachers would do more good by remaining in Newton and teaching Newton students.

Committee member Edwin Hawkridge asserted that he had some reservations concerning the plan that he would want more information about it.

School Board Against Volpe Plan To Strip Independence

Five members of the Newton School Committee went on record Monday night as opposed to a recommendation by Governor Volpe which would strip School Boards of their financial independence.

If Volpe's proposal were enacted into law, Newton's public school budget could not be increased more than $300,000 next year unless the Mayor and two-thirds of the members of the Board of Aldermen voted to authorize a greater jump.

In recent years the Newton school budget has been rising at a rate of between $800,000 and $900,000 annually.

Under the existing law, the Newton School Committee has fiscal independence and can spend whatever money it deems advisable for the operation of the city's public school system.

Neither the Mayor nor the Board of Aldermen now has the power to cut a school budget.

The five Newton School Committee members who took a stand against Governor Volpe's recommendation were Chairman Haskell C. Freedman, Mrs. Grace C. Whitmore, Francis P. Frazier, Dr. Way Dong Woo and Edwin Hawkridge.

Absent from the session were Mrs. Norma W. Mintz, Hugh M. Tomb and Manuel Beckwith. They are expected to join with their five colleagues in opposing Volpe's plan for restricting the spending authority of School Boards.

At their meeting on Monday night, the five Newton School Committee members voted that the two State Senators and five State Representatives who represent sections of Newton be contacted and urged to oppose this phase of the Governor's sales tax plan.

The committee members took no position on the sales tax question itself.

Chairman Freedman observed that the Willis report recommends that more money be spent on public school education in Massachusetts but that Volpe's recommendation for limiting the spending power of School Committees would result in less money being expended for educational purposes.

Freedman expressed the conviction that Volpe's proposal would be "harmful to Newton and to the Commonwealth."

He maintained that education would be set back in all communities which now have good public school systems.

Freedman declared that School Committee budgets would be subject to outside control for the first time in 300 years if Volpe's plan were adopted by the Legislature.

He charged that Governor Volpe "in the name of education, would surrender to mayors and city and town governments the right to control education."

Under the existing law, the Boston School Committee is the only School Board in Massachusetts which now must obtain the consent of the Mayor and City Council to increase its budget.

However, many Mayors and Selectmen have maintained that they should have some control over school spending.

A bitter battle will be waged on Beacon Hill over Volpe's plan.

State Tourney Bound Tigers Have High Hope

Newton High School's hockey team has qualified for the State tournament, and the Tigers will go into the tourney with high hopes.

Over the holiday weekend the Newton skaters defeated Cambridge Latin 6-0 and were tied by Waltham 2-2.

The Tigers finished second to Arlington in the GBI hockey league but are hopeful they may be able to avenge their lone league defeat if they meet Arlington in the State tourney.

Edward J. Watson is a career clerk in the Budget and Cost Control Section, Main Post Office. He is a veteran and entered the postal service in 1950.

Women Voters' Finance Drive Opens March 4

Final plans for the Finance Drive by the Newton League of Women Voters were discussed at a meeting held on Feb. 17th at the home of Mrs. Emily Barber, chairman of the League's Finance Committee.

Mrs. Barber announced that the drive will start on March 4th, which is to be proclaimed by Mayor Gibbs as Newton League of Women Voters Day. The drive will continue through the month of March, and will appeal to all members of the community for help in supporting the League's activities.

During the month, there will be public displays of literature in local banks, libraries, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, and other prominent locations, to help familiarize people with the League's work.

The League is a non-partisan organization dedicated to promoting political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Appointments Of Teachers Are Approved

The superintendent of school's appointment of three permanent teachers was approved by the School Committee Monday night.

They were: Philip E. Burnham Jr., for social studies at Newton South High School, effective as of Feb. 15; Mrs. Mary H. Frank to the division of Pupil Personnel Services, effective Mar. 29, and Elsa G. Chaffee to Horace Mann School kindergarten, effective Sept. 1.

Mrs. Frank and her husband, Lawrence K. Frank, have written articles on "Parent and Child," and "Your Adolescent at Home and at School."

Miss Chaffee, B.S. Ed. Wheelock College 1965, served as a camp counselor for three summers and as a volunteer "play lady" at Children's Hospital for four months.

Also approved were appointments of Sarah J. Rehwald to

Dog Officer To Start Next Week

Newton's new dog-control officer — George J. Longbottom — declared last night that he expects to have his truck and other equipment by the early part of next week so that he can start his work on a full scale.

Meanwhile, Longbottom has handled complaints against about 15 barking, biting or snapping dogs. He telephoned the owners of the misbehaving canines and in each instance obtained their cooperation, he reported.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Collins Is Strongest Ally In Volpe's Sales Tax Fight

Governor Volpe's most powerful ally in his fight for the enactment of a sales tax is the man who may be opposing him in next year's State election—Boston Mayor John F. Collins.

This is a highly unusual situation, but Collins is an extremely unusual politician.

The fact that he and Volpe might be adversaries in the 1966 election has no effect whatever upon Collins. He believes that a sales tax is vital to the prosperity of Massachusetts and to the future well-being of its cities and towns. So he is battling side by side with Volpe for the passage of a sales tax. It's as simple as that.

Neither Volpe nor Collins is giving much thought right now to next year's elections. They're concerned with their immediate problems.

Collins has no firm political plans for 1966. He has not actually made up his mind whether he will seek the Governorship or a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Need For New Library Explained

Mrs. George F. Brewer, president of the board of trustees of the Newton Free Library this week sent a communication to Alderman Adelaide B. Ball, chairman of the Aldermanic Committee to study the library survey report.

Mrs. Brewer stated that the communication was sent for the purpose of clearing away any misunderstanding which may have arisen following the publication of a statement signed by Benjamin F. Shattuck, written on behalf of a group of Newton citizens, and read at the last meeting of the Aldermen.

The Graphic, in its coverage of the aldermanic meeting, reported the communication in last week's issue. Mrs. Brewer's answer to the Shattuck statement is as follows:

"Before any specific points in this item can be analyzed, it is important to review the purposes and functions of the Main Library. First of all, the Main Library is the information source for the entire city, as regards not only books, but pamphlets, magazines, newspapers, government, state and municipal documents, maps, pictures and recordings.

"As such it is the primary center to which people come for information and from which all material is originally distributed. As such it preserves back issues of periodicals for reference and makes available the great writings of the world, and as such it is a depository for items dealing with the history and background of the Newton Community.

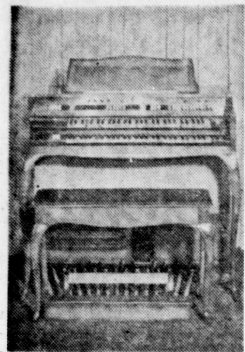

"It is the administrative headquarters for the entire Library organization — the hub to which new books come for processing and from

February 28 Is Proclaimed As Heart Sunday

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has issued a proclamation in which February is designated as Heart Month, and Feb. 28 as Heart Sunday.

The proclamation: "Whereas, our community is under constant attack by diseases of the heart and circulation, bringing to our residents a major threat to life and health, and

"Whereas, it is incumbent upon our people to make every effort to combat cardiovascular disease, with the appalling burden of loss, suffering and sacrifice it brings, and

"Whereas, in the Massachusetts Heart Association and its Newton Chapter we have instruments with which we may make effective contributions of time and money, thus sharing in the fight against heart and circulatory diseases with programs of research, education and community services, and

"Whereas, the Massachusetts Heart Association's programs have helped produce lifesaving medical and scientific advances which have been of incalculable value to many thousands of persons,

"Now therefore I, Donald L. Gibbs, mayor of the city of Newton, do hereby proclaim the month of February, 1965, as Heart Month, and do designate Feb. 28, 1965, as Heart Sunday in this community, and appeal for complete and generous participation by our citizens and organizations in the 1965 Heart Fund Campaign.

Miss Sparks To Describe Church Work In Mexico

She will show pictures to illustrate her talk on "The Church in Mexico."

Miss Sparks accompanied Bishop Stokes when he consecrated a church in Toluca, which was built with funds from a Massachusetts Diocese grant to the Missionary District of Mexico. Included in the church are a parish house, rectory and boarding house for students at the local teachers college.

While in Mexico, Miss Sparks visited other churches that had been helped by the United Thank Offering.

Dessert at the meeting of St. Mary's women will be served at 1 o'clock, with Mrs. Bernard Herman and Mrs. Marshall Cannell the hostesses. Mrs. Harold Christensen will lead the devotions.

Claflin Gets New Post At Garden Trust

Donald F. Claflin has been promoted to the position of vice-president and treasurer of the Garden City Trust Company of Newton at the annual meeting held recently.

The promotion was announced by Charles E. Dockser, president and chairman of the board.

Mr. Claflin joined the Garden City Trust Company at its inception in 1959 as assistant treasurer. He was promoted to treasurer in 1963.

He is a native of Jamaica Plain but now resides at 20 Dexter street, Newtonville, with his wife and four children. Mr. Claflin currently is the 1964-65 president of the Newton Lions Club.

Among his many other civic interests is the Action for Mental Health Program in Newton in which he serves as assistant treasurer.

He is a graduate of Boston English High School where he was president of the Class of 1935, and still presides over the annual class reunion. He also is a graduate of Boston College from which he was graduated in 1940.

Kathleen lives with her mother, father, and a nine-year-old brother at 34 John St., Newton Centre. An older brother is married. In her home she is as busy as she is at school. She is an avid collector of almost anything—from Beatie records to tropical fish.

In recent months she has been building a John F. Kennedy collection, and her room is lined with photographs, including a snapshot which she herself took during one of his visits to Boston. The prize item of this collection is a personal letter from Cardinal Cushing in answer to one of hers asking for some highlights of his association with President Kennedy.

The operation which changed Kathleen's life was performed five years ago this month at Children's Hospital.

Her recovery was rapid, with only two weeks in the hospital and a return to school after April vacation. But the transformation was complete.

The girl who used to curl up in a corner and sleep while her friends raced from one activity to another had become a tireless teen-ager with a zest for all that life had to offer.

Kathleen is not sure of her future plans, other than that she hopes eventually to do some kind of social service work. But, regardless of what she does later, she is today a glowing reason to "Give—so more will live."

Theme Of Brotherhood

Brotherhood Week, given but superficial notice by many, ignored by others, is nevertheless a time of dedication for those who still strive to solve the problem of peaceful co-existence among Americans of different racial and religious backgrounds, and color.

The proud ensign of brotherhood flying this week has been torn down in some areas, has been rent and torn and trampled upon. But it flies, and snaps in the winds where they are free.

It is paradoxical that contemporary man, who roars off into uncharted outer space and soars to distant planets, is yet earthbound in the old mire of racial and religious suspicions. These are the trade marks of other days and places. We should long since have released ourselves from their ancient tentacles.

These bogey-men of a less enlightened past still hold the reins on many of our citizens. These citizens are physically contemporary to us but mentally still wallow in the sloughs of distrust and hatred, relics of another era.

The violence rampant in our land today, most of it senselessly brutal, eases the machinations of those who hate and lends assistance to the disciples of destruction. Reports of the incessant parade of these vicious deeds has coarsened our sensitivity and dulled our inbred reflex horror of them.

Teachings of all our great world religions are almost identical in their interpretation of man's relationship with his fellowman. The Golden Rule threads brightly through these doctrines in a variety of phrases but with the same identical theme, the Brotherhood of Man; to do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

Guarding Our Pocketbooks

The Constitution of the United States delegates to Congress the authority to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and "Fix the standards of weights and measures."

Our forefathers realized the relationship between money and weights and measures in the marketplace, that to receive short weight or measure is the equivalent of receiving counterfeit money in change, and that nearly every commercial transaction involving the exchange of goods, property, or services, is affected in a very vital way by some form of weight or measures.

March 1st-7th in National Weights and Measures Week, is annually designated to emphasize the importance to everyone of accuracy in all commercial quantity determinations.

This newspaper is in complete agreement with Mayor Donald L. Gibbs' proclamation which states, "Because of the precise standards for weighing and measuring demanded through vigilance of our weights and measures officials, condoning neither short nor excessive weights or measures, Americans buy with confidence and trust, this is a true service in the public interest that is deserving of our recognition, gratitude, and thanks."

We wish to join in commending our weights and measures officials, they definitely defend the pocketbooks of us all in these days of increased living costs.

LETTERS

Query To Trustees

Editor of The Graphic:
Would you please print the following open letter sent by me to the Board of Trustees of the Newton Free Library:
As a citizen of Newton who is vitally interested in what happens to the many branches of the Newton Free Library, I write to ask for particular information relative to how the library is operated.

The term used "Board of Trustees" would indicate that the Board holds certain property or money or some valuable article in trust for somebody or other. Would it be possible to advise me through the Medium of the press just what they hold in trust, and for whom?

I also am a little confused as to why there should be a Board of Trustees inasmuch as information available to me is to the effect that under the provisions of an Act of the General Court in February, 1874, some ninety years ago, the City of Newton assumed responsibility financially and otherwise for the operation of the Newton Library.

If this information is correct, and the expenses of the library are allocated from money collected from the taxpayers of the city, why does a Board of Trustees numbering say three or four individuals have the full control of the expenditures of such money as may be appropriated?

It would seem to me from recent newspaper articles that the erection of new buildings in whatever location they seem fit to select, and the destruction of any of the present buildings which they think should be abolished is left entirely to their judgment; regardless of what the citizens of the city may think.

It is my contention that if taxpayers' money is supporting the Newton Free Library, then by all means the taxpayers should decide what library facilities will be available to them. Not what three or four people decide.

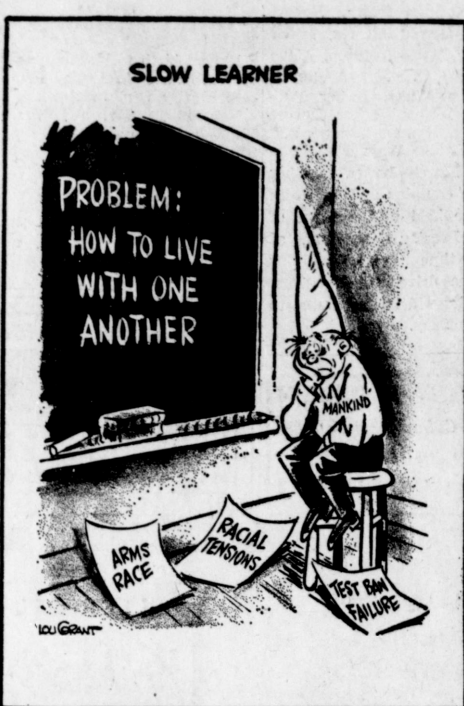

I would appreciate being enlightened on the foregoing questions, in view of the fact that I am a taxpayer, was born in Newton, and my family certainly makes use of the facilities made available by the library.
ROBERT L. CUNNINGHAM,
159 Charlesbank Rd., Newton

Answer To Letter

Editor of The Graphic:
It is certainly nice to know that in Newton, a city of nearly 100,000, there are people who are happy and satisfied with their library system. "Some Newton Taxpayers" says she can get any book she is looking for simply by walking to her branch library and filling out a postcard. Therefore, she claims, why all the fuss about a new library? Who needs it?

So you can walk to your branch library, "Some Newton Taxpayers" . . . there are plenty of people who despite the 10 branches must use some form of transportation to get to theirs; and some of these same people find that their nearest branch probably has to order the book they want from the main library anyway. So they use transportation and they take themselves to the Main Library to begin with—why use the middle man? Ad, incidentally, I don't like the idea of spending $380,000 of tax money heating, lighting, and staffing "middle men." But that, alas, is another matter.

To get back to the Main Library, it is a pretty busy place ("Some Newton Taxpayers" says the branches are not) and a very crowded one. It has been called an 18th century maze, which is an apt description, but it really doesn't do it justice. It is a terrible place in which to work and a worse one for any member of the erasing public to used (with the exception of one room tacked on to the front). The Boys and Girls Department is a separate misery all its own. Located a block away from the Main Library and in a wood frame house, it is so small that there is space for only three tables in its main room.

To sum it all up, I do not complain about paying for a city garbage service despite the fact that I am happy with the garbage disposal in my kitchen which serves my needs. So, why should "Some Newton Taxpayers" deny the rest of us a decent Main Library because they personally don't feel the need of one.

Political Highlights

He has told Volpe that if he decides to stand for the Governorship, the first one who will be informed of his decision will be Volpe. That's the kind of politician Collins is.

There is no deal between Volpe and Collins. Many political observers expect that they will be opponents next year for the first four-year gubernatorial term in Massachusetts history. That could very well prove to be the case.

But Collins feels that Volpe's sales tax proposal is a sound one, that its enactment is the only thing which will prevent real estate tax rates from reaching confiscatory heights and that he has a responsibility to do everything he can to help achieve its adoption.

How Volpe and Collins will make out in their drive for a sales tax is something only time will determine. The fight over the issue is still in its early stages.

The guessing, however, is that they will muster a lot more support behind the measure than most Beacon Hill observers anticipate.

Volpe should be able to put most of the Republican members of the House and Senate on the line for his bill.

Collins, himself a former member of the House and Senate, wields considerable influence with Democratic lawmakers in both bodies.

One thing Collins can do very effectively—and presumably will do before the sales tax battle is ended—is to take his case to the people.

Collins is an exceptionally talented speaker, and he's not likely to get many challenges to debate.

It's not an easy thing to persuade the people that they should support a bill which would require them to pay a sales tax on many things they buy. It's much easier to argue against a new tax than for one.

But Mayor Collins is confident that he can convince the general public that a sales tax, while costing them a few pennies a day, would improve the prosperity and strengthen the economy of the State and the city or town in which they live.

Like other responsible officials, Collins is deeply concerned that rising tax rates not only will put an increasingly heavy burden on home-owners and rent-payers but will drive industry out of Massachusetts and result in a loss of jobs.

The Boston Mayor also points out that Massachusetts ranks 48th among the 50 States in the percentage of aid it provides to cities and towns for educational purposes.

Until the sales tax fight is either won or lost, Collins probably will not give much thought to deciding what office he will seek next year. His attitude is that first things must come first.

New Move May Be Made To Oust Buck Dumaine

Dissension within the Republican State Committee may finally result in the ouster of Chairman Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., who has been something of a storm center ever since his election in 1963.

The final decision on whether Dumaine will be replaced or retained will be made by Governor Volpe.

How soon it will be made is uncertain because Volpe has so many other pressing problems he doesn't have time to give much thought to his party's official State organization.

One factor Volpe undoubtedly will weigh, when he does get down to the question of what to do about Dumaine, is the amount of bitterness he would arouse in the conservative wing of the Republican party if he decrees that Dumaine be dropped.

Dumaine has his defenders as well as his critics. Some of those insisting that Dumaine be retained as chairman credit him with the GOP victories last November in the fights for ducing a so-called "mystery" candidate to make a hopeless fight against Senator Edward M. Kennedy, he failed to line up Republican candidates in 79 legislative districts where the Democrats won by default, according to those who would like to see someone else installed as chairman.

The truth is that Dumaine had only a limited knowledge of politics when he was chosen as Republican State Chairman. The committee members who elected him knew this or should have known it.

He was picked over the opposition of Attorney General Brooke and others primarily because it was felt he would be a successful money-raiser through his business contacts.

Yet, in fairness, there's no assurance the Republicans can come up with a State chairman who would do any better job than Dumaine. Nobody seems to last very long in the position.

Daniel E. McLean was serving as chairman of the Republican State Committee in 1960 when Volpe was elected Governor and Leverett Saltonstall was reelected U. S. Senator. He was a capable chairman.

When Volpe assumed the Governorship, he wanted his own man as Republican State Chairman. McLean was given a State job, and Philip K. Allen was named to head the GOP State Committee.

Mental Health Week will be held at Boston College from March 1 to March 4. Featured will be a program to recognize mental health problems, and how the community and student body can assist in meeting them.

The special program is sponsored by the Psychology Club, Sociology Club and the pre-medical students' Mendel Club.

A further purpose of the program is to help promote careers in mental health work.

Lee Loumos Says:

Many people who attended our Open House on Washington's Birthday herded me in a very unexpected way. They accused me of "hiding my light." Instead of seeing the usual cold display of merchandise in a functional surrounding, they were captivated by the Colonial charm of the interior of the store, which in reality is the old original Newton Post Office, preserved intact within the walls of the surrounding modern addition.

This section of our store, between the front display room and the large service area in the rear, contains private viewing and listening rooms in the tranquil atmosphere of Old-Americana, where one can sit and compare the relative values without distraction. The original beams still support the peaked roof and the old fireplace is still in good working order.

So come on in and let us uncover our light for you too, particularly now, during our Annual Magnavox Sale, when quality is coupled with value.

is it wise to BORROW?

If a soundly arranged loan would help you and your family to live better, cut expenses or improve your income, it's a good indication that you will find it advantageous to borrow. Your loan would bring these important objectives into reach immediately.

Think of the advantages of having — without waiting months or years to accumulate the full price — your own home . . . a better car for Dad's traveling job . . . time and work-saving appliances. These are just a few examples of where prudent borrowing can improve your family's financial outlook and standard of living.

If you can use a loan for a productive purpose, apply at Newton Savings Bank. Service is prompt, courteous and confidential. And you borrow at low bank rates.

Tigers

Dick Toomey, leading scorer in the GBI League, tallied two goals Monday in the 6-0 win over Cambridge Latin. He also had three assists. It was the 11th game in which the Tigers were unbeaten and also marked the fourth shutout of the season for goalie Kevin McLatchy.

George Mechem also had two goals in the Cambridge game, while Dick Dezotell and Jeff MacLaughlin came through with the other scores.

In last Saturday's tie game with Waltham the two Newton goals were scored by Dick Dezotell and John Coyle.

The tie with Waltham came as a mild surprise, but it had been pointed out prior to the contest that the improving Waltham team could give Newton a real battle. It did exactly that.

Now the State tournament will offer the big test for the Toomey Brothers, George Mechem, Jeff MacLaughlin, Dick Dezotell, John Coyle, Kevin McLatchy and company.

which they are sent to the various branches. It is the prime source of research materials and other information for residents and business organizations. Thousands of questions are answered every year by the reference staff, either in person or by telephone. In short, it is the focal point for all public library service in the community.

"The functions of the Main Library having been thus outlined, the need for it becomes apparent. It is important to regard its performance in the light of accurate statistics and to comprehend fully the circumstances which give rise to these statistics.

"Regarding circulation: The item in last week's Graphic states that the circulation has increased only one percent in the last ten years. That would include the years 1954 to 1963 and this is a very misleading statistic. The fact is that during 1954 through 1959 the circulation increased by 126,955 volumes - an increase of 15.66%. From 1960 through 1962 there was a 14.78% decrease in circulation, and in 1963 and 1964 it again rose, and there was a 2.41% increase.

"In other words, the decrease took place over a period of three, not ten years, and the reason for it is ap-

The members of the Arrangements Committee for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Building Fund were the recipients of much praise for their planning which resulted in transforming Newton High School's large gymnasium into a gala dining room seating 1,000 guests for last night's campaign community dinner.

Seating, decorations and entertainment were but a few of the numerous details handled by the committee to help assure the success of the event which aided the Building Fund campaign of the hospital.

Key figures on the committee were Mrs. Edward V. Hickey, Jr., chairman of the Arrangements Committee; Mrs. S. Page Cotton, Mrs. John Worcester, and Mrs. Robert G. Fisher, all of Newton.

Others on the committee were Mrs. Hugh M. Tomb, Mrs. James B. Dealy, Jr., Mrs. William E. Biddle, Jr., Mrs. E. Parker Calvert, Mrs. Charles Olton, Mrs. Robert C. Casselman, Mrs. Donald B.

"IN THE FIRST PLACE, in 1955-56 there began a surge of interest on the part of various P.T.A.'s to build up the elementary school libraries. Until this time the public library has been almost totally responsible for library service to elementary school students. As the school libraries expanded, there was a decrease in public library use by students in elementary grade which became apparent in circulation figures in 1960 when it accounted for 58% of the total decrease in library circulation that year. Since the fall of 1962, however, student use of the public library has again increased. In 1964 it amounted to a circulation of 333,775 books, an increase of 5.8% over the low point of 1962.

Pretty Winter Bridal Unites Miss Fowler - Mr. Apsey

In the Trinity Church, Boston, recently, Miss Susan Standish Fowler became the bride of Mark Jouett Apsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick V. Fowler of 116 Dartmouth street, West Newton, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Apsey of Winchester are the couple's parents.

Officiating at the 3 o'clock afternoon service was the Rev. David Van Dusen. A reception was held at the Oval Room at the Sheraton Hotel in Boston.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a skimmer A-line skirted gown accented with baroque jeweled Alencon lace and a removable Dominican cape.

A tiara of matching crystals and pearls held in place her elbow length illusion veil. She carried an arm sheath of white roses and stephanotis.

A bevy of pretty attendants preceded the bride altarward. Miss Kathy Mills of Boston was maid of honor, while Mrs. Robert Cummings, of Scituate was matron of honor.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Frederic V. Fowler Jr., of Wayland, Miss Kathleen O'Keefe of West Newton, Mrs. William B. O'Keefe of Newton, Miss Dian Averbuck of Waban, Miss Judith Mara of West Newton and Miss Amy Colgan of Brookline.

Young Cindy Fowler of Wayland was flower girl. Robert Apsey Jr., of West Acton served as best man.

Mary Jane Carney Is Wed To Edward Charles Coffey

Arrangements of carnations and larkspur adorned the altar of St. Mary's Church, Dedham, for the wedding Saturday of Miss Mary Jane Carney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold John Carney of Dedham and Buzzards Bay, to Mr. Edward Charles Coffey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Coffey of 26 Dale street, Newton.

Rev. Michael Groden, a close friend of the bridegroom, officiated at the 10 o'clock morning ceremony and celebrated the nuptial Mass. A reception followed at the Lafayette House, Foxboro, scene of the wedding reception of the bride's parents 28 years ago.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a sheath style gown of peau de soie fashioned in full length with tiny pearl applique at the sabrina neckline, long sleeves and a tiered wateau train.

Miss Susan Catherine Carney of Dedham was her sister's maid of honor.

Serving as best man for his brother was Mr. James Michael Coffey of Watertown. Ushers included the bride's brother, Mr. William Owen Carney of Dedham, and three brothers of the bridegroom, Mr. Francis Joseph Coffey of Newton, Mr. John Patrick Coffey of West Newton and Mr. Bernard Thomas Coffey of Millis.

The soloist at the church was Mr. Kenneth Toomey of Dedham.

After returning from a wedding trip to upstate New York and Vermont, the couple will reside in their newly-built home at 5 Forest street, Norwell.

The bride, who is employed as school nurse in Dedham, was graduated from the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing, Class of 1959.

Gay Newton Flavor Noted At Hub Morning Musicales

Mrs. Blake Tewksbury, wife of the president of Lasell Junior College, attended the fifth of this season's Boston Morning Musicales with Mrs. Richard A. Winslow of West Newton, chairman of the fashionable concert series which benefits Tufts University-Boston School of Occupational Therapy.

The popular duo-pianists Arthur Gold and Robert Fildale were guest artists in the program at the Statler Hilton. Another highlight of the morning was announcement of the next season's musicians. They are Maureen Forrester, contralto; Malcolm Frager, pianist; Cesare Valletti, tenor; Erick Friedman, violinist; Regine Crespin, soprano; Gerard Souzay, baritone. Subscriptions are now being made for 1965-66 which will be the 38th season of Boston Morning Musicales.

Newton residents were well represented among the music lovers who packed the ballroom at the recent concert, many of them wearing spring-like flowered hats as gay as the proverbial Easter bonnet. Mrs. Robert R. Linton chatted with her neighbor Mrs. Lewis S. Pilcher during the coffee hour preceding the program. Others from the Newtons were Mrs. Richard Blagbrough with Mrs. Champe Fisher and Mrs. Edward Pride, Mrs. Edgar M. Holmes, Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen, Mrs. W. C. Swartley, Mrs. Nathan Skornik, Mrs. Dayton Hainey, Mrs. Leo V. Hand, Mrs. Frederick J. Caswell, Mrs. Thomas J. Carty, Mrs. Howard E. Smith Jr., Mrs. Ernest Angevine, Mrs. Edwin Peters, Mrs. Emerson Sylvester, Mrs. Nathan Clark, Mrs. Worth West and many more.

Teachers

Committeewoman Grace C. Whitmore, Committeeman Francis Frazier and Committeeman Way Dong Woo all favored the proposal although Dr. Woo also said he felt the proposal should be explored further.

The other three School Committee members—Mrs. Norma W. Mintz, Hugh M. Tomb and Manuel Beckwith—were absent from the meeting.

The matter was placed before the School Committee to determine the attitude of the members, and no formal vote was taken on it.

The recommendation was submitted to the School Board by Assistant Superintendent J. Bernard Everett who recently spent four days in Bogota during a trip financed by Bogota school authorities with Ford Foundation funds.

In support of his suggestion, Everett voiced the conviction that the recruitment of teachers for the Bogota school would promote international understanding and goodwill at no expense to Newton and would help to assure that another Viet Nam situation would not develop in Colombia.

Superintendent Brown agreed with Everett that the teacher-export idea would be beneficial to both Newton and Bogota. He said it could well lead to the exchange of teachers or pupils. He also stressed the importance of fostering good international relations.

Dr. Brown disagreed with Chairman Freedman's opinion that the loss of several outstanding teachers would be harmful to the Newton school system. He said capable substitutes could be obtained to replace the teachers sent to Bogota.

Freedman asserted that he was unable at that time to see any great benefits Newton would derive from sending several of its topnotch teachers to Bogota.

"They are asking us to recruit teachers for a private school," said Freedman. "If we do it, we might be expected to do the same thing for communities all over the world."

Dr. Brown suggested that other communities in the United States might be encouraged by Newton's action to follow its example and take care of any requests by other cities.

Everett said that the Colegio Nueva Granada in Bogota, where it is proposed to send the Newton teachers, is not a private school but a cooperative institute. Of its 1000 pupils, he said, 40 per cent are Colombians and the remainder are either North Americans or nationals of other countries.

He reported that he had been favorably impressed with the school in Bogota, its teachers, its plant and its equipment.

Everett said he had talked with a number of persons, including representatives of the Ford and Rockefeller Foundations, about the Bogota school's problems.

Two representatives of the Bogota school will visit Newton during the week of March 8, Everett revealed. Further discussions probably will be held at that time on the matter of sending Newton teachers to Bogota.

"As an observer down there," Mr. Everett said, "I found the school to be well organized and well run, and I was impressed by the courtesy and general good conduct of the student body." He described Colegio Nueva Granada as a cooperative school run by the parents and a board elected by the parents. It is a non-profit enterprise.

Specifically, Mr. Everett's recommendations were as follows:

- 1—Start with a teacher of English capable of being a department head.
- 2—Fill the need for a teacher of science.
- 3—If possible, send a teacher for primary grades.
- 4—The following year (1966) fill five positions in Bogota.

The Bogota authorities, he explained, expressed their willingness to give each teacher a two-year contract at the same salary he is paid in Newton—possibly $9000 or $10,000 annually. There would be a two-year contract, Bogota would contribute to the teachers' retirement benefits and each teacher would find a furnished house or apartment awaiting him with a maid to do the housework.

Announce New Sears Catalogs Now In Mails

The first of nearly 11 million 1965 Spring-Summer general catalogs of Sears, Roebuck and Co. have begun reaching families in various parts of the nation. Distribution of the five-pound, 1,612-page books will require about six weeks.

The catalog, printed in 11 regional editions, lists approximately 140,000 items ranging from two-cent chain hooks to a $3,450 cabin cruiser.

Leading off the book is a 20-page section which features outstanding examples of new and improved merchandise. Highlights include:

A HOME WATER PURIFIER which distills impurities from ordinary tap water, producing spring-fresh, mineral-pure water. The unit even can convert sea water to safe drinking water. ($29.95)

AN INNOVATION IN SWIMWEAR for young juniors — bathing suits sold by the piece. Bra tops, trunks, and covers are sold separately so that young customers can buy different size tops and trunks for better fit, and can mix or match colors. Thirteen outfit combinations are possible from the collection.

A DRAMATIC OUTDOOR low-voltage lighting system in which six colored-lens spotlights can be placed anywhere along a 125-foot cable to add an aura of beauty-in-color to back yard or patio. ($69.95 including timer)

A CAMPERS' TENT featuring an exclusive one-piece telescoping aluminum frame for easier, quicker setting up. ($140)

A FASHION EXCLUSIVE in yard goods—lock-lined lace, for the professional look of an elegantly line garment without the trouble of double cutting and sewing.

Other innovations in the catalog include a dramatic collection of handcrafted rugs, jewelry and native art objects from South America procured by Sears in cooperation with the Alliance for Progress program; and a collection of colorful Rya rugs from Scandinavia, featuring a weaving art developed almost 4,000 years ago by the Vikings.

The catalog's fashion "look" emphasizes white and pastel colors in coats and suits, as well as in dresses and sportswear. Fabrics and trimmings have a distinctive feminine appeal — there is much lace, crepe, dotted swiss, acetate knits with a silk look, ruffles, embroidery and crocheted edgings.

Long evening dresses are more in evidence than in previous years, as are ensembles of all kinds — coats-and-dresses, three-piece suits, and dresses-and-jackets.

Stretch fabrics play a more important role in Sears sportswear. Shirts, culottes, skirts, coordinated sets, and pants of all lengths come in stretch fabrics. Long pants for women come in a choice of horizontal, vertical, or two-way stretch fabrics.

Stretch fabrics also are featured in such items for men as tapered dress shirts and knitted sweaters.

Catalog presentations include 277 pages of home furnishings, 64 pages of home appliances, 313 pages of home improvement items, 212 pages of automotive, recreation and garden merchandise, and 563 pages of wearing apparel for the family. Nearly one-third of the book is in full color.

People's Vices Pay Off in State Taxes

State Comptroller Joseph Alecks revealed statistics relating to taxes received by the Commonwealth for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1964. (in round figures)

Some 4,078,000 persons attended dog and horse tracks and waged $194,054,000 in the 435 racing days. The state took $15,227,000 of these as taxes.

People bought 89,000,000 gallons of malt beverages and 16,000,000 gallons of whiskey, wine, etc., on which the state tax was $30,000,000.

They smoked 727,000,000 packages of cigarettes on which the state collected $43,000,000.

Through cash discounts at an average of two percent the state saved $223,706,42 in the last fiscal year. Most of the discount was from purchase of food, supplies, etc., by state institutions.

Speedy Mail Due With Improved "Zip" Machines

A big "breakthrough" has been made in electronic machines to "read" zip-coded addresses on mail. Postmaster Ephraim Martin of the Boston district, in which Newton is included, has learned from Postmaster General John A. Gronouski in Washington, D.C.

"The Postmaster General said he expects to begin installing these sophisticated new machines in major post offices starting in about a year," the postmaster explained.

Mr. Martin said each machine will be able to sort, as well as read, at the rate of 35,000 letters an hour.

The offices to get the address readers have not been announced, but the local postmaster said they will have significant effects on the mail in and out of each community regardless of whether it gets the new machines.

This is because they will speed incoming mail to smaller offices from major cities and step up the dispatch of mail deposited in smaller communities, but which must be processed enroute at major mail massing points.

The postmaster emphasized, however, introduction of the "seeing eye" device next year does not mean Zip code isn't useful already.

"ZIP code," he explained, "is important in mail handling under the system of mail processing already in use which will continue to be in use as the basic system at most points. These machines will be just another step — in conjunction with the mechanical mail sorting machines we have developed — to help keep pace with the growing volumes of mail. Neither will the machines endanger jobs — they will only help us meet mail expansion with minimum manpower expansion."

W-2 Forms Must Accompany All Tax Returns

Be sure to attach copy B of all Forms W-2 to your 1964 Federal income tax return. Refunds cannot be paid nor can credit be given for taxes withheld without the required Forms W-2, the withholding tax statement from employers.

This advice comes from Alvin M. Kelley, district director of Internal Revenue in Massachusetts. He said that the Forms W-2 should be attached to the Form 1040.

However, Kelley asked that staples or pins not be used on the card Form 1040-A. Card form returns are processed by machine and staple or pin holes in the cards interfere with processing.

Taxpayers should be sure that the W-2 attached to the return is Copy B, the one marked for the Federal tax return. If the taxpayer had several jobs during the year, a W-2 Form for each job should be included.

Logan Contract Is Awarded To Newton Firm

The Farina Construction Corp. of Newton has been awarded a $1 million contract for construction of a new Logan International Airport building that will serve as American Airlines' cargo terminal and as a flight kitchen for Sky Chefs, Inc., the wholly owned subsidiary of American.

The contract calls for the completion of the new facility by July 1, according to the American's Boston Manager, Clarke Ferguson, who announced the awarding of the contract. The total cost of the dual-purpose building is expected to be $1.8 million.

Plans for the new air freight — Sky Chefs facility, to be located beside American's maintenance hangar (on the left as you enter the airport) were driven last fall. The new building is the latest phase of the Massachusetts Port Authority's construction program at Logan Airport.

The street side of the air cargo facility will have a loading dock with space for 12 trucks. These facilities will be most accessible for trucks delivering cargo to the airport.

Sky Chefs plans to install several innovations in the way of food preparation equipment and an air-conditioned employee dining room.

Rapid Growth
New York—The labor force of the U.S. grew from about 49.4 million in 1929 to more than 65.8 million in 1952.

This Week's Best Buys

Apples—"Crisp-Aire" (controlled atmosphere) McIntosh, Baldwin, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious and Cortland are all in good supply at prices rather attractive for these premium grade apples. Standard storage Macs, Rome and Baldwin continue in good volume at very reasonable prices.

Carrots — Volume remains up; quality good; prices reasonable.

Lettuce, Greenhouse — Ample supply on hand; quality good to excellent; prices attractive.

Mushrooms — Whole fresh natives are in excellent supply at attractive prices.

Winter squash — Both Blue Hubbard and Butternut varieties continue in good supply at money-saving prices.

Turnips — Purple tops volume continues up; prices reasonable to low.

Today's Agri-Fact: Lou Webster of the Dept. of Agriculture points out that greenhouse growers, like most Mass. farmers, have tended to specialize as they advance. A lot of the early greenhouses that were put up after the Civil War in Belmont and Arlington were very successful raising lettuce. Others in Mansfield, Concord and Woburn were successful growing cucumbers and tomatoes.

These are frequently brought more money in the wholesale market in 1910 than they do today.

We still have dozens of growers who produce some 4 million pounds of greenhouse tomatoes every year. We also have thousands of cartons of fresh greenhouse cucumbers grown here in Mass.

Many growers, however, especially lettuce growers, moved over to flowers. For example, there are 500 greenhouses producing 36 million carnations a year in Mass.

Several Mass. greenhouse rose growers pick from one to ten thousand roses every day.

Coal Output
New York—France produces 60 million plus tons of coal a year. The U.S. produces the same in about two months.

Fire Loss
Seattle—Fire destroys more than 450 million cubic feet of timber in the U.S. every year, most of the fires caused by human carelessness.

Group Insurance
Hartford—More than 32 million men and women in the U.S. are covered by some form of group life insurance and the number is increasing.

Melon Country
Clearwater, Fla. — Majority of watermelons are grown in Florida, California, Georgia, Texas, South Carolina, Missouri, Arizona and Louisiana.

Museum Open
Vacation Week
In addition to its regular winter schedule, the Blue Hills Trailside Museum in Milton will be open during the entire 1965 February school vacation period of February 19th to March 1st (including Washington's birthday, Feb. 22).

Throughout each day, naturalists will give live animal talks on the life histories of animals native to the Blue Hills. Groups of 15 or more persons making advance reservations (phone Edison 3-0690) may also enjoy guided trail walks, weather permitting.

Along with natural history exhibits, wild animals to be seen at Trailside include a white-tail deer, river otter, red and gray foxes, upland game birds, owls, hawks, Canada geese, and a variety of ducks.

Operated by the Massachusetts Zoological Society for the Metropolitan District Commission, Trailside Museum has a normal winter schedule of being open Thursdays through Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and is located on Route 138 in Milton (1904 Canton avenue).
